

1963 Rawdon Township Council Chosen By Acclamation On Monday

Reeve Ken Mumby Retires — Flip of Coin Decides New Member of Council

There will be no election for Rawdon Council in 1963, following the annual nomination meeting which was held on Monday in the Township Hall at Harold, Ont. The nominations were as follows:

For Reeve — K. Mumby, Fred Beckett.

For Deputy-Reeve — Fred Beckett, Burton Morton.

For Council — Burton Morton, M. Johnston, Jack Morgan, Maurice Clancy, Chas. Farney and Roy Shortt.

With the positions of Reeve and Deputy-Reeve filled by acclamation, the three new nominees for Council, Messrs. Clancy, Farney and Shortt, flipped a coin with the former being the winner. Members of the 1963 Council will be Reeve F. Beckett; Deputy-Reeve, Burton Morton; and Councillors M. Johnston, J. Morgan and M. Clancy.

Reeve Reports

Clerk W. J. Barlow acted as chairman for the meeting and called on Reeve K. Mumby as the first speaker. The Reeve reviewed the financial statement for 1962 and stated that for the first time in many years Council was obliged to borrow money for operating expenses during the year. This action was necessary because the money spent on the Development Road would not be recovered until 1963 and the school debentures came due in mid-year. In addition there were advance payments made to public schools. While there was an overdraft at present it would be offset by receipts early in the new year, stated the Reeve.

County Owns Share of Hospital

Turning to County matters he stated an agreement had been reached between the County of Hastings and Belleville whereby the County now owned one-third of Belleville Hospital. An addition was planned to the hospital but any payments by the County towards the addition would not be required until payment for the new County building was completed. Consequently it would not mean any increase in the county tax, stated Mr. Mumby.

He was proud of the work accomplished on the Development Road, practically all of which was done with the Township equipment. Approximately $30,000 had been spent on this project, stated the speaker.

Buy Lighting Equipment

The street lighting system in Spring Brook had been purchased by the Township at a nominal price, stated the Reeve, and the Department of Highways will pay 50 per cent of the cost of installation of new fluorescent lights on the Highway. The cost of the system to the ratepayers would be approximately one mill.

The Reeve discussed welfare payments, stating many of them were for former residents of the township living elsewhere, and were not controllable.

In his closing remarks Reeve Mumby expressed his appreciation for the co-operation and support given him during his three years in the Reeve's chair, and stated he was ready to retire if others were willing to serve.

Deputy-Reeve F. Beckett

Deputy-Reeve Fred Beckett, a member of the County Roads Committee, gave a comprehensive review of the work on the County Road system. He listed the various projects undertaken in Rawdon Township by the County and the approximate expenditure on each, including the work on Mill Street in Stirling Village.

Concluding his remarks he stated he had two years more to serve on the County Roads Committee and would contest the Reeve'ship. If elected he would welcome any ratepayer coming to Council with any problem and a sincere effort would be made to solve it.

Councillors Speak

Burton Morton, a Councillor for the past six years, reported on the road construction in the township during 1962, under a bylaw of $40,000 and a supplementary bylaw of $3,000. The

Native of Stirling Killed In Toronto

Older residents of Stirling and district will learn with regret of the sudden death of Mrs. J. R. (Gertrude) Garwood, of Toronto. She was struck by a truck on Queen St. E., Toronto, on Saturday afternoon, December 15th, and died instantly.

The late Mrs. Garwood was born in Stirling, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham. She attended the local schools and Albert College, Belleville, and resided here for many years. She has been employed in the office of the Toronto Police Department for over twenty years.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Fred (Joan Elizabeth) Beer, of Scarborough, and three grandchildren, Michael, David and Suzanne.

The funeral service was held in the chapel of the Toronto Crematorium, Tuesday, at 1:30 p.m.

Local and Personal

Mrs. H. Clarke, Vernon, Bob and Annamae, Stirling, had dinner Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Ashley, Campbellford and New Year's at the home of Mrs. Jack Clarke, Carmel.

Township equipment was in excellent condition and the cost of operation had decreased with the purchase of new machines. He paid tribute to the services of Mrs. Joe Thompson who looked after the road account and to Reeve K. Mumby for his services as relief officer. He accepted the nomination as Deputy-Reeve.

Murray Johnston gave a report on the cost of maintenance of township roads while Jack Morgan reported on the cost of operating the various pieces of township equipment.

Messrs. Maurice Clancy, Charles Farney and Roy Shortt, nominees for Council, spoke briefly.

Dr. R. B. Murray

Dr. R. B. Murray, Rawdon representative on the Stirling-Rawdon District High School Board, addressed the gathering on school matters. The school tax rate had increased in 1962 as a result of increased operating expenses, increased attendance necessitating hiring an extra teacher, and increased salaries. New equipment had also been purchased and the district school could now supply education equal to any, except along commercial and technical lines. The Board planned transporting pupils wanting a technical education to one of the district schools, concluded the speaker.

E.M.O.

Reeve Kenneth Mumby paid tribute to Dr. Murray as the prime mover in the organization of the Emergency Measures Organization in the district. In reply Dr. Murray gave an outline of the organization and emphasized that each should co-operate by filling out a questionnaire on personnel and equipment which would be circulated throughout the Township early in the new year.

Girls Successful In Swimming Tests

Several local and district Public School girls won awards in the recent tests in swimming held at the Tops Motel, Belleville. The tests culminated an eleven week course which began October 6th last. There was an enrolment of 72, divided into four groups, with 61 coming from Stirling, 6 from River Valley, 1 from Frankford and 2 from Belleville. The instruction was carried out almost entirely by girls from the Stirling High School.

Those winning awards were YMCA Card 1 — Patsy Patterson, Jane Coughlan, Gall Armstrong, Jo-Anne Kirm, Mary Lou Kirm, Linda Faulkner and Lynne Tanner, all Brownies and Beginners. Anne Morton, Kathy Parsonson, Betty Oosting, of Stirling, and Susan Kellar, Frankford, qualified for their Brownie Badge.

With the cold weather coming on it was decided to suspend classes until late spring when (if parents are still interested) a more intensive programme should be undertaken. From the experience gathered it is possible to conclude that Stirling could have a fine girls' aquatic team.

The water safety part of the course stresses safety in swimming, boating and skating. At this time of year all parents should recognize the dangers of thin ice and strange ponds and ensure that their youngsters are practising good skating safety.

On Friday, December 28th the high single and triple went to Earla Crossman, 333 and 604. For the below 160 average group Vicky Armstrong rolled a high single of 171 and also high triple of 427.

Train-Truck Crash Kills Brother of Stirling Resident

A tragic Christmas story ended in violent death Thursday, December 20th when a man who foresaw his own death days before, was killed in a truck-train collision two miles from Cornwall.

Leo Segouin, 58, of 325 Fifth Street West, Cornwall, always had a premonition he would die like his father and grandfather within days of Christmas.

Had Premonition

His wife said her husband had often mentioned, he too, would likely die at that time.

At 2:05 p.m. Thursday Mr. Segouin was returning to Cornwall Brass and Iron Foundries from Montreal with a load of coke. His truck rammed a west-bound Canadian National freight at the Bellevue crossing on the Track Road.

Cornwall police said Mr. Segouin died instantly. The truck was demolished into a heap of twisted metal. The body of the vehicle was skinned to its skeleton frame.

The man killed was a brother of Mrs. Manson Farrell, of Stirling.

Frankford Arena Destroyed By Fire

Fire, Friday, December 21st, razed the Frankford Arena while firemen from three departments fought near-zero cold and frozen water hoses. A light breeze fanned the flames.

The cause of the fire has not been definitely established yet, but firemen believe an oil burner near the front of the building exploded. The arena's one employee was inside the building at the time, preparing the ice surface.

A $10,000 concrete block addition to the front of the building begun this fall and still under construction, was virtually undamaged.

Unit Three Annual

Mrs. John Svoboda was hostess in her home to the Unit Three United Church Women on Tuesday evening, December 18th with a splendid attendance.

Leader, Mrs. Grant Richardson, opened the meeting, followed by the devotional taken by Mrs. Cecil Macklin, it being based on Christmas with several carols being sung.

The annual reports were given by the various officers, including reports sent in by those who found it impossible to attend the meeting. This has been a very successful year for the Unit in every phase of accomplishments. None have been overworked and everything done during the year has the brightness of willingness, showing the good fellowship one another and the Christian spirit.

The leader has given much of her time in planning each meeting, co-operating with each programme committee and officers in the various capacities of the Unit. The hostesses also have shown their hospitality in a very sincere way with a year ending in satisfaction to all and a most friendly atmosphere prevailing.

A few changes have been made in the list of officers for the coming year, which will add zest to the 1963 meetings.

Mrs. Arbuckle put on two Christmas contests and Mrs. Roy Tucker gave a reading.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and committee and was much enjoyed. The usual social visit was had with a vote of thanks extended to those who made the evening one to be remembered.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The Bible Woman is disappearing in East Pakistan, according to the Missionary Herald, a publication of the Baptist Missionary Society.

Once a familiar figure on the missionary landscape, she is now less frequently seen. Generally an elderly person, likely a widow, she probably had been a teacher in her younger days.

Many Bible Women have done excellent work visiting the women in the villages of Pakistan, India and other countries teaching the Scriptures, conducting prayer meetings and giving help in the Christian way of life.

Where these women work today they are more likely to be known as "women evangelists." Standards of acceptance are usually higher and include a real sense of devotion to the task as well as enough education to be capable of further training.

Bible teaching has always been a basic function of Bible Women on the frontier areas of the Church's work overseas.

"Who says this isn't a LEAP YEAR...?"

"Maybe you can't divide 1963 by four—but in my book it still adds up to a Leap Year."

"I'm starting the New Year with a big leap forward. Tomorrow I take delivery of a brand-new car, and there's a modern stove for Mollie on the way to replace that monstrosity in the kitchen."

"Mind you, we did a whole lot of looking before we decided to leap. That's why we settled on the B of M Family Finance Plan in buying our New Year presents to ourselves. The monthly payments are well within our budget, and we couldn't ask for better terms. All our credit needs fitted snugly under that one broad B of M roof."

"This New Year, it's off with the old and on with the new... thanks to the B of M Family Finance Plan."

If you have something in mind that would give a new zest to living—a new car... a hi-fi... a new model TV... a cottage in the country, even... why not see your neighbourhood branch of the B of M soon? The people at "MY BANK" will be glad to discuss a low-cost, life-insured B of M Family Finance Plan loan that could brighten your days in 1963.

Believe it or not, some Ontario Hydro construction crews are eagerly waiting for freeze-up. Men on the job in the far north progress faster and more economically in winter, when swampy muskeg country is frozen solid. In warm weather, muskeg just adds to their problems.

Another year has gone, we step tomorrow into another, fresh and clean and new. Help us to keep, dear Lord, these days so precious, spotless from deed unkind, or word untrue. May they be filled instead with loving service, high aims, sweet thoughts and duties nobly done. May we blot out by steady, strong endeavour, the failures of the old year that has gone.

Highlights of Ontario Hydro's development programme to meet increasing power demands, which grew by 6.2 per cent in 1962, saw Chairman W. Ross Strike (top centre) taking part in official opening ceremonies of NPD, Canada's first nuclear-electric generating station; construction of North America's first major 500,000-kilowatt unit at the coal-burning Lakeview plant (bottom) in final stages of commissioning. New techniques in construction were also used by Hydro when helicopters strung a new power line across 50 miles of northern bush country.

BE A WISE MEAT BUYER

Shopping for meat these days is becoming more and more of a challenge. It takes a lot of planning and skill to buy wisely for meat buying has become a do-it-yourself project. Yes, with so many self-serve stores to shop in, we find that we have to rely on the label on the pre-cut packaged meats, the advertisements and our own knowledge of meat cuts.

If you want to be thrifty in your meat purchases, and who doesn't, here are a few tips from the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture in Ottawa.

Watch the advertisements for "specials" — they may save you money. Many stores feature certain cuts of meat at bargain prices to attract customers. If you have a freezer you can buy more than one cut when the price is attractive and store it for later use.

Check the seasonal prices for certain meats. For example during the fall months, lamb supplies will be greatest and prices lowest. Beef and pork prices usually decline during the fall and winter months. Veal is in greatest supply and lowest in price in the spring.

Notes how the cuts fluctuate in price. Tender, popular cuts such as steaks and chops vary in price with the season. They are most in demand during the summer months so are higher priced then. Roasts, particularly pot roasts, aren't as much in demand during the summer and early fall and are consequently lower priced than they are in winter.

Compare prices on the basis of cost per serving rather than cost per pound. The amount of meat in proportion to the amount of bone and fat determines if it is a good buy. Boneless cuts give three to four servings per pound; meat with a moderate amount of bone gives two to three servings per pound.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

FOR SIXTY-THREE

I was looking for Christmas stickers. On the table in our recreation room I found assorted scraps of paper, leaves from school notebooks, rough sketches and crayon art work, and then the treasure. Neatly printed was a list of Resolutions for 1963.

(1) I will not fight with Martha in 1963 even if she gets her leetards mixed with mine. (2) I will study my maths harder. (Felt like adding spelling to that one, but I didn't. (3) I will tidy my half of our room every day. (4) I will love everybody. (Signed) Franny.

Number one is going to be tough. I give it a week. Number three, of course, is a dream. Give it a day... possibly. Not that I care. That last one, number four, makes all the rest rather unimportant.

Love is about the most important thing in the world, I suppose. Books have been written about it. Some writers claim that if you could love everybody, you would never have an ulcer or a headache. Another asserts that virtually every creative act springs from love, whether it be a poem or a well-plowed field, or a beautifully-designed bridge. And they aren't talking only or even chiefly about romantic love that makes you all trilly inside; they mean love in that larger sense of understanding and compassion between men.

Most of us go along with anything good that is said of love. Most of us wish there were more of it.

Then should we pass a law? I suppose we could; we have laws these days about everything else under the sun. Trouble is, love is a voluntary emotion or state of mind. It cannot be legislated. You can't steal it from those who have it and give it to those who haven't (if you could, believe me some political party would have it in the platform!).

How does one achieve this wonderful state of mind? Don't ask me. I think Franny might be on the right track, though. Include everybody. If you can bring yourself to love some of those you've been feuding with, you'll find it mighty easy to love that good neighbour... and yourself!

Mount Pleasant

The Church was nicely decorated with evergreens, bitter sweet and a nativity scene for the Christmas service. Memorial flowers were placed on the Communion table by Mr. Ross Hoard and family in memory of Mr. Hoard. Rev. W. G. Fletcher gave a special message and the hymns and scripture lesson were centred on the Christmas theme. Mrs. Kenneth Weaver provided organ music. The full choir rendered "May There Be Peace on Earth This Christmas." Miss Mary Ellen David contributed a vocal selection. The offering was gathered by David Potts and Roger Smith.

Two Wrongs One Right

Their wives chanced to leave town at the same time so the first-floor apartment dweller and the occupant immediately above him decided to go fishing.

As they cast in a lake 50 miles from home, the downstairs resident said: "I keep worrying about a cigar I was smoking before we left. I'm afraid I left it burning on my wife's new bedside table."

"Well, you can stop worrying," replied his companion, "I left my bathtub water running."

CARMEN THROUGH SIX DECADES

Operatic divas of the past have often been as colourful as the operas they performed in, as evidenced by these photographs of famous Carmens throughout the years. They are (left to right) Gladys Swarthout, who sang the role from 1939 to 1945; Minnie Hauk, the first American Carmen, who performed the role in 1878; Gertrude Farrar and Emma Calve, who sang it at the 'Met' in the early 1900's; and Rosa Ponselle, whose Carmen was the last broadcast role she sang at the 'Met' prior to her retirement in 1937. This year's Metropolitan Opera series, heard Saturday afternoons on the CBC radio network, promises to be the most colourful in years with such familiar operas as Don Giovanni, Boris Godunov, and Otello, along with works such as Adriana Lecocquer, and Ariadne auf Naxos, never before broadcast on this series.

ARTHUR L. BARAGAR

Stricken with a heart attack at the winter residence of his sister, Mrs. Estella Geen, 2113 8th Avenue, Bradenton, Florida, on Christmas Day, Arthur L. Baragar died suddenly. Mr. Baragar spent some time at Oak Lake in former years and was well known to many residents in Stirling and district.

He was born in Belleville, 64 years ago, and attended schools in that city and when the First World War broke out he joined the Signal Corps of the 39th Battalion and served overseas with distinction. While a resident of Belleville he was a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Belleville Club and fraternally was a member of Moira Lodge, A.F. & A.M., No. 11. In his later years Mr. Baragar's business interests and residence were in Florida and he will be greatly missed by many friends in this district, as he maintained his friendly relations through regular visits to his home town.

Surviving are his wife, the former Corinne Bradley; one sister, Mrs. E. A. (Estella) Geen, and one brother, G. Clifford Baragar, both of Belleville.

St. Paul's AOTS January Meeting

For the regular January meeting of St. Paul's United Church AOTS Men's Club on Wednesday evening, Mr. Grant Potter had arranged an impromptu programme. Mr. Francis Lyons was called upon to give a resume of his recent trip to Canoe, Nova Scotia. His wife and he spent the Christmas week with Mrs. Lyons' parents, and encountered very icy driving conditions on their way east, and then an especially heavy snowfall in New Brunswick on their return trip. Francis returned to Ontario feeling grateful for the care our Department of Highways gives to the highways in this province.

The second part of the programme provided both merriment and serious thought as several members were asked to give their resolutions for 1963. The programme ended with

Maurice Bell accompanying a trio consisting of Jack Bush, Elwood Bateman and Francis Lyons in "The Church in the Wildwood."

Mr. John Good presented a worship service which reminded the members of the need to dedicate themselves anew in the early days of the new year to lives closer to God's purpose. He used as the basis of his meditation the opening words of Genesis, "In the beginning, God."

Mr. Don Williams was at the piano during the sing-song led by Mr. Harold Hagerman. Mr. Fred Bateman gave an interesting fellowship report.

During the business part of the meeting, conducted by the President, Mr. Wendell Camm, Mr. Allen Wells reported on the successful nuts sales project and spoke of the proposed catering at Hoard's on January 28th. Mr. Ron Whiteman acted as sergeant-at-arms during the pot luck supper. The meeting closed with the pronouncement of the benediction by the Rev. P. J. Hommersen.

Riverside Const. Staff Party

On Wednesday evening, December 19th, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bush were hosts at their home for the annual Christmas dinner for the employees and their ladies of Riverside Construction. There were 45 people present.

After a most delicious turkey dinner a social evening of games and singing was enjoyed by all.

During the evening Mr. Ralph Johnson presented Jack and Joan with a lazy-boy chair, on behalf of the staff. In his address he complimented Joan on such a delicious meal and how much it was appreciated that with such a large gathering they were still able to hold it at their home.

Jack and Joan expressed their appreciation for the lovely gift and Jack thanked his staff for all the work and co-operation that they had given him during the past year. He presented each employee with a turkey at the close of the evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph

Too much of our driving is done "under the inference." So we get involved in those unexpected unpleasanties called "accidents." So says Donald S. Buck, Safety Director, U.S. Army's Continental Army Command, who was in Toronto recently lecturing on a course conducted by the Ontario Safety League.

Accidents are caused by people who drive under the inference. They are not necessarily bad, stupid or reckless people. But they rely on the inference that all is well. This is almost a prerequisite to getting involved in an accident.

So, many of us pound along the highways on worn or underinflated tires, serene but unsafe under the inference that the tires won't blow. When we are going slow, we infer that we won't have an accident — to preface their inferences: "I wonder if? ... Will he stop? ... Is someone coming? ... Is the road clear? ... Don't drive under the inference."

Can we define safety as freedom from accidents? No!, asserts Don Buck. Some drivers specialize in causing accidents, while avoiding being in the actual crashes themselves. Real safety is not freedom from accidents. Rather it is freedom from the things that cause accidents.

There's nothing really wrong in making inferences while driving — the real danger lies in not recognizing them as inferences. Drivers need yet most accidents occur at slow speeds. We infer that instruments are reliable, that brakes will not fail, that lights will not go out. And since our inferences are usually correct, we repeatedly get away with them. At least until the inference proves wrong.

Accident files are crammed with sad lessons learned from faulty inferences — that vehicles ahead will not stop suddenly, that pedestrians won't step out into the path of oncoming vehicles, that the other driver will honor a signal to turn left. We infer along until we're wrong.

Mortgage on Odd Fellow Hall Burned at Impressive Ceremony

Special Musical Program
Enjoyed by Close to Two Hundred — Refreshments

With close to two hundred in attendance the ceremony of burning the mortgage on the Odd Fellow Hall on Charlotte St. was held on Saturday night. Several dignitaries of the Order, including Heath Jones, Tweed, District Deputy Grand Master of Madoc District No. 45; Sis. Levina Farrow, of Madoc, District Deputy President of Rebekah District No. 4; Sis. Isabel Carr and Sis. Louise Clarke, Past Presidents of the Rebekah Assembly; Bro. Chas. Anderson, District Deputy Grand Patriarch of District No. 30, and R. E. Fox, Deputy Grand Master of Ontario, were also in attendance.

Musical Programme

The entertainment for the evening was provided by the McFaul Orchestra, from Crofton, in Prince Edward County, including Claire McFaul, Warner McFaul, Miss Mary Ellen McFaul, Emerson and Wayne McFaul and Bruce Ferguson; Janice and Valerie Clancy, of Harold, and Mrs. Mac Sharpe, Stirling.

Noble Grand Basil St. Pierre acted as chairman and after the singing of "O Canada," welcomed the large gathering and introduced Mr. Claire McFaul, who in turn introduced the members of the group. The visiting artists divided their programme between old time and modern selections. They opened with "Up Pops the Devil" and "Arkansas Traveller," followed by "Who's Sorry Now" and "Five Foot Two." They also were heard in such old time selections as "Harris Fort," "X in D," "Top-Eared Mule," "Buffalo Girls" and "Turkey in the Straw," and modern numbers including "Sail Along Silvery Moon," "Mr. Touch Down," "Girl of My Dreams," "Glo Worm" and others. They interspersed their part on the programme with two pantomime numbers by Claire McFaul and Bruce Ferguson, "Margie" and "My Pa," and an "Interview with an Astronaut," which provoked much merriment. They closed with the rendition of three hymns, "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Tell Me the Story of Jesus" and "Faith of Our Fathers," in which the audience joined in singing. The Misses Janice and Valerie Clancy, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Gerald Clancy, rendered several vocal duets, while the former also did a tap dance number. Mrs. Mac Sharpe rendered several piano selections.

Burning the Mortgage

The ceremony of burning the mortgage was under the direction of R. E. Fox, Deputy Grand Master of Ontario, who voiced appreciation to all who had assisted in any way towards making this long-awaited ceremony possible. He also extended personal greetings on behalf of the Grand Master and from Grand Lodge. He paid tribute to the late Newton Foster, of Kingston, Past Grand Master, for his share in promoting the construction of the new hall and called for one minute's silence in his memory.

Brief History

Before the actual burning of the mortgage, Mr. Fox gave a brief history of the local Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges.

The Subordinate Lodge received its Charter in 1883 with the following as charter members: Dr. Robert Parker, Oliver Hewitt, local druggist; B. F. Butler, lawyer; W. H. Calder, jeweller, and Lindsay Melkijohn, hardware merchant.

When the Lodge received its Charter Bro. William MacDermid, Lucan, Ont., was the Grand Master. The corner stone of the Presbyterian Church, Stirling, was laid June 8th, 1893, by the Rev. F. W. Jolliffe, of Coburne, the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, and the corner stone of the United Church was relayed by Bro. Reginald McFadden, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario in May 1953.

Members included such family names as Parker, Sine, McCutcheon, Fargue, Ward, Melkijohn, Martin, and all the ministers of the Village were members.

At present the membership includes Bro. Karl Sine, honorary veteran of 50 years and his two sons; Bros. H. C. Martin, Frank Ashley and Roy Thrasher, honorary veterans of Laurel Rebekah Lodge was instituted on November 11th, 1920, by Sister M. E. Greene, of Ottawa, President of the Rebekah Assembly, assisted by officers of Quintana Lodge, Belleville. Four charter members still survive, Sis. Mabel Megginson, the first Noble Grand; Sis. Alice Sine, as Conductor; Sis. Jennie Burkitt, as Chaplain, and Bro. Karl Sine. In 1953 prospects of a new hall started. The Subordinate, Encampment and Rebekah Lodges discussed ways and means of raising money and on May 24th, 1955, plans for the new hall were sent to Toronto for approval.

"Time does not permit naming specific contributions of time and money," stated Mr. Fox, "but we are very grateful to all who helped in any way. Members and non-members, with your interest and co-operation, this hall is now a reality."

The following Noble Grands of both Lodges from the year the mortgage was signed to the present time were called to the front, along with Mrs. Robt. Wallace, the mortgagee. Odd Fellows — Kenneth Ray, Harold Johnson, Robert Hulin, Chas. Fargue, Ivan Sine, Bert Jones, Roy Tucker and Basil St. Pierre.

Mrs. A. Wannamaker Hostess To Monthly Meeting Stirling W.I.

Mrs. A. Wannamaker was hostess to the Stirling Women's Institute on Wednesday afternoon. This being the first meeting of the New Year the roll call following the opening of the meeting was "New Year's Resolutions." One of these seemed to be a very good practice, "I think of the things I could have done better." The keeping of a resolution seems only worthwhile when a resolution of sincerity is made.

A letter of appreciation was read from Rev. A. Zeedman, Managing Director of Scott Mission, Toronto. In part it read: "Be assured that your kindly interest has made this season happier for those in need. The generosity of your friends enables us to give better care for the needy."

This W.I. has sent eleven boxes of good used clothing to the Scott Mission and here, too, it would be impossible for us to send this large amount if it were not for the kind people of our community that wish to share with us with what we have to give comfort to others less fortunate.

The sick and bereaved folks were remembered with cards.

The report of quilts sold was most gratifying and plans are being made to start more for next Christmas sales. Patterns for crib quilts were shown and these will also be made.

The February meeting will be held the first Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. West with Mrs. B. Reid and Mrs. S. McMurray as the lunch committee. The programme will be open for everyone to contribute as they desire. Roll call will be

To Honour Hon. Geo. S. White

A testimonial dinner in honour of Senator George S. White, of Madoc, speaker of the Senate, is being planned for the Madoc Armouries on the evening of January 17th, when residents of Hastings County and the Madoc district will pay tribute to a native son.

Approximately 400 persons are expected to attend the dinner for which a limited number of tickets are still available. Tickets may be secured at the Madoc Review Office or from Madoc Village Clerk Jack Kincaid.

"Household Hints" or pay a 5c fine.

The Christmas cards idea was discussed and directions are as follows: Leave card intact; tie in bundles of 30; wrap, leaving one end open for inspection; write on left hand corner "Used Christmas Cards;" address to "Christmas Card Dept., Newcastle on Tyne 3, England. This package of 30 will cost about 4 or 5 cents. The limless veterans in England do this work by having a method of erasing the writing on these cards and they sell them when completed for the benefit of their livelihood. Anyone is welcome to send their cards and what a nice way to dispose of our lovely Christmas cards, and too, in a small way we are giving a helping hand to others.

The Women's Auxiliary for the Hastings County Home sent out notices of the next meeting to this branch as it is a member.

The officers in charge of the business meeting were Mrs. B. Reid, Mrs. L. Bronson and Mrs. W. C. West.

The programme consisted of readings by Mrs. W. C. West, "True Riches," "Good to Forget," Ten Commandments for Teenagers." Mrs. Bronson gave humorous reading entitled, "Recipe for Cooking a Husband," "Isn't Life Funny?" and "An Irishman." A flower contest was enjoyed with Mrs. S. McMurray, Mrs. W. H. Cooke and Mrs. W. C. West receiving the prizes.

A dainty lunch was served and a visit enjoyed. Good wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker on their winter vacation to Florida.

Patterson offered prayer. The hymn, "Now the Day is Over" was sung to close this part of the meeting.

THE BIBLE TODAY

"Take a Bible-inspired thought with you into the sickroom," writes Leslie E. Dunkin in the War Cry under the title "What to Take Into the Sickroom." Thoughtfulness, information about the patient, helpfulness and "good weather" are items to be taken to a sick friend's bedside.

"A comforting verse of Scripture will do wonders," adds the writer. Prayer and mail complete the list. "Even though you have made a personal visit, send one or more get-well cards if the illness is prolonged. Humour that brings a smile to the face of the patient is good medicine for any illness."

"And sometimes it is helpful to read a chapter or a smaller portion of God's Word to him," advises the War Cry.

Men's Bowling

Well, it looks as though the festive season worked wonders for the good right arm of some of our bowlers... or maybe it was the rest? At any rate, some rather fine scores were turned in by the following.

Dick Reid had a fine triple of 212, 282 and 311, totalling 805, which was the high triple for the week. His 311 was also the high single. Other good scores were: A. MacConnell 207, Bruce Hemmerick 229 and 229, Tom Kovack 227 and 268, Ray Poste 253 and 230, C. White 205, B. Blakeley 208, J. Doran 226, Doug Sees 204 and 207, Garry Poste 222 and 261, Doug Harris 250, Bob Crossman 274.

We missed the boys from the Elaine team, but hope they will be back with us next Monday evening. See you then, fellows.

BUTTER

All creamery butter sold in Canada is graded. The words "Canada First Grade" on the label indicate that when butter was graded it scored a total of 92% or more, of which at least 39% is for flavour, the most important grading point.

Most of the Canadian butter sold to consumers is Canada First Grade. This means it is of the highest quality, with excellent flavour, smooth texture and uniform colour.

Once it has been graded, Canadian butter is marketed or stored. Federal Department of Agriculture inspectors then regularly check its flavour, colour and texture, in order to insure a quality product to consumers. They also weigh samples to make sure the butter is not underweight.

All butter sold in Canada must meet severe requirements established by the Federal Department of Agriculture. Butter must be made only from cream or milk with or without added water, colouring and salt. It must contain at least 80% fat and no more than 16% water.

AN APPLE A DAY

Here are some reminders from the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture for using apples every day of the week:

Monday — A fresh apple for your midmorning break at school or work,

A fresh apple for your late evening snack.

Tuesday — Apple wedges with slices of cheese for dessert at lunch, or supper.

Wednesday — Apple and cabbage salad for lunch. Use equal amounts of chopped unpeeled red apple and shredded cabbage.

Thursday — Baked apples for supper. Fill centres with honey and nuts.

Friday — Apple sauce with toast for breakfast.

Saturday — Apple Dumpling for lunch.

Sunday — Apple pie and cheese for Sunday dinner.

For information on the buying, storing and using apples in many delicious ways, write for a free copy of "Apple" booklet. It is available from Information Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

HOT SOUP FOR WINTER DAYS

What better way is there to begin a good dinner than with a bowl of clear, steaming consomme? A bowl of thick creamy potato soup with tiny meat balls floating on top also provides a delightful one-dish lunch for a chilly noon.

The home economists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, say that soup served at the beginning of a meal should stimulate the appetite and provide a contrast in flavour, colour, and texture to the dishes which follow it; whereas, soup that is served as a main dish should satisfy the appetite and so must contain a large proportion of solid foods, containing some protein. Pureed or chopped vegetables, ground or diced meats or fish in a thin sauce may be used. Also macaroni, noodles, rice or barley add variety and goodness to the soup.

The food value of a clear broth, from which the fat has been skimmed, is very slight; it contains most extractives, vitamins of the B group, mineral elements and a little gelatin from the meat and bones used. Vegetable soups however, have the value of conserving all the mineral elements and, provided they are not overcooked, most of the vitamins of the original vegetable ingredients. They are the most economical ways of serving vegetables.

Here is a recipe for Cream of Tomato Soup that will not curdle and is delicious served with grated cheese or salted whipped cream.

4 cups tomato juice
1 small onion sliced
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup pastry flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
4 cups cold milk

Heat tomato juice and onion to boiling and then remove onion slice by skimming. Melt fat in a heavy saucepan; add flour to it and stir until smooth. Add enough hot tomato juice to make a thickening that will pour, and then pour this mixture into the rest of the hot tomato juice, whipping continuously with a wire whip. Cook until the mixture boils thoroughly. Add sugar and salt, mix and then beat in cold milk all at once. Heat once again to the boiling point and serve.

Cooking Comments

A little mustard rubbed into the hands after peeling onions will remove the odor, say home economists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

If you would like to dry your parsley for later use, dip a bunch in boiling water until it is a vivid green. Put it in a 400 degs. F. oven to dry and then rub between the hands or through a coarse sieve.

Butter will cream more easily if it is placed in a bowl that has just been rinsed with boiling water.

For dinner in a hurry bake individual servings of meat loaf in a muffin pan. The children will love this.

When making cream pie keep the under crust from becoming soggy by cooling the filling before pouring it into the baked shell.

Try cooking carrots in consomme instead of water and they will really take on new flavour.

For easy unmolding of a gelatin dish lightly brush the mold with salad oil before adding the jelly mixture.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

GOALS ARE THE SAME

In Manitoba, the voters rejected the socialist party (NDP) quite decidedly. They lost seats, and their share of the popular vote was reduced. Does this mean that the people did not want better food and clothing for the underprivileged, better homes for the poor, more educational opportunities, and all the fine things the NDP candidates offered so lavishly?

Not at all. I don't suppose there is one iota of difference between individual Liberals, Conservatives, Social Crediters and Socialists on these matters. We'd all like to see the lower-income groups better housed, clothed, fed and educated. You could look a long time to find a Manitoban who wants to keep sections of the population poor, undernourished and ignorant! We're scarcely a province of immoral beasts unmindful of our neighbours' welfare!

Why, then was the NDP so unpopular? Not because of the character of their candidates, because they had nominated many earnest, sincere and upright persons. It was simply that most of us disagree with means for attempting the goals we all favour. Not only do we disagree with them, we also fear them. They seem intent on raising the standard of living on a class basis, rather than a general upgrading, and most of their schemes involve compulsion, which means more government inspectors and policemen and force and regimentation.

Some say the wedding of the old CF and the labour unions to form the NDP caused the downfall. That could be true, but I doubt it. I think the fundamental reasons the majority rejects the dazzling material offerings of the NDP are (a) they don't believe socialism can deliver these material blessings to begin with and (b) they want no part of the drift to compulsion and regimentation involved in taking, by force, from one class to give to another.

Christmas Concert

The annual Christmas Entertainment was held on Thursday night at Eggleton United Church with a good number present.

Mr. Bruce Stapley was chairman for the splendid program presented by the pupils of Eggleton School, S.S. No. 24 Sidney under the guidance of their teacher, Mrs. Godden. Mrs. Bruce Stapley, at the piano played the accompaniment for all the Carols, songs and choruses.

Opening songs were, "O Canada," "The Angel" and "The Evergreen." A welcome was recited by a junior pupil.

The chairman spoke a few words of welcome and voiced appreciation at the number in attendance.

Mrs. Godden spoke briefly and hoped that all would enjoy the program presented by the pupils. She then presented a prize to Judy Johnson, Carol Danford and Lloyd Clancy for proficiency in spelling.

All the pupils took part in the Nativity Scene, with Mary, Joseph, the Manger Bed, the Wisemen and the Shepherds on the platform. Behind the curtain, the Christmas Story was read by Sheila Clarke and number of Carols were sung by the senior pupils. Those singing solo parts were Carol Danford, Terry Kovach, Lloyd Clancy and Brian Kovach.

Lola Danford recited a humorous monologue.

Billy Clarke, dressed as a girl, with a lovely picture hat contributed a recitation. A skit, "The Christmas Cake," was well presented by Carol Stapley, Judy Johnson and Sandra Stapley. Five boys, Ronald Craft, Michael Jones and Peter Craft took part in the recitation, "Bone People." A puppet show, "An Ordinary School Room," was well presented and amusing.

Albert Jones recited "When Santa Was A Boy" and "The School Boy's Wish." An interesting dialogue was enjoyed with Bill Stapley as a salesman selling magazines. Others taking part were Wayne McMullen, Mary Jones, Carol White, Linda Prest, Kenneth Danford and Terry Kovach.

Three boys, Keith McMullen, Douglas Danford and Teddy Clarke took part in a recitation. The skit, "In the Best of Families," was presented by Carol Danford and Lin Stapley. Eddie Stapley gave a recitation. Ventriloquism was exemplified by Lloyd Clancy.

Closing songs were "Santa Land" and "Too Fat for the Chimney." Kenneth Danford announced the arrival of Santa in his traditional costume. With the assistance of several of the senior pupils Santa soon distributed the prettily wrapped gifts from under the beautifully lighted Christmas tree. The pupils and the pre-school children in the community each received a bag of candy and treats. The evening closed with the Queen.

White Gift Service

On Sunday morning the White Gift Service was held at Eggleton United Church. The Sunday School Superintendent, Forde Stapley, presided and welcomed all present. Soft music was played by Miss Sharon Reide on the piano.

The Scripture reading, St. Matthew 2: 1-11, was read in four parts by Lin Stapley, Wayne McMullen, Keith McMullen and Lloyd Clancy. The story, "What Can We Children Bring?" was given in three parts by Marilyn Reid, Sandra Chambebris and Shirley Prest. Judy Johnson and Eddie Stapley gathered the offering. The service closed with singing the carol "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and the benediction by Mr. Stapley.

Newly-Weds Honoured

On Saturday evening between fifty and sixty neighbours, friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Reide to honour their son and bride, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Reide.

Mr. Bruce Stapley capably acted as chairman for the program which opened with a round of community singing led by Mrs. Maurice Clancy with Mrs. Murray Martin at the piano. Miss Annamie Clarke read a poem, after which Miss Sharon Reid contributed a vocal solo "It's Almost Tomorrow." Readings were also given by Mrs. Charles Stapley and Mr. Bert Reide. Mrs. Glenn Clarke and Miss Donna Vardy sang several duets playing their accompaniment on their two guitars.

A number were called on and spoke briefly wishing for Sharon and Allen health and happiness as they journey together along the future years.

An address of appreciation was read by Elmer Prest and signed on behalf of the Madoc Junction and Halloway friends by Shirley Prest, Mary Prest and Elmer Prest. Mr. and Mrs. Reide were then presented with a lovely upholstered occasional chair, a smoker's stand and a mirror, driftwood and white roses table centre-piece. They also received several individual wedding gifts from friends and relatives present.

Sharon and Allen each graciously expressed thanks for the good wishes.

and lovely gifts and invited one and all to visit them. "For they are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung. Following this lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

The Good Driver

Ontario is a law-abiding place, on the whole. And most of the law breaking takes place under wraps. But on the streets and highways citizens break the law repeatedly, dangerously and openly, and it seems there is nothing that can be done about it, according to the Ontario Safety League.

Many drivers who obey most of the rules imposed by regulations, and most of the rules imposed by common sense, ignore one important restriction whenever they get into traffic. THEY FOLLOW TOO CLOSELY! They do this day after day, as a matter of course, whenever they take the wheel. True, they have to give it up for awhile if they spend some time in hospital after a rear-end collision, but they probably go right back on the road and do it again when the fractures have healed.

Nearly one out of every ten traffic smash-ups is the consequence of following too closely, says the Ontario Safety League. It is a terrible price to pay for the privilege, or rather stupidity, or driving along in packs. It is a price that is paid for... nothing! Because tailgating does not benefit the driver in any way.

The time saved by a hurrying driver who crowds the traffic ahead is negligible. In fact, in city traffic the driver who keeps well back often has the ride with the fewest hold-ups; he is able to see well ahead and has the opportunity to move into a free-flowing lane when something threatens to block the lane he is in.

It seems that the police have no practical way of enforcing observation of "reasonable and prudent" between-car distances. All they can do is to lay charges after a collision has taken place.

On expressways, rear-end collisions are the No. 1 cause of deaths and injuries. And yet, one sees examples of following dangerously close every few seconds when driving on a super-highway.

The Ontario Safety League reminds drivers that the rule for calculating proper distance from vehicle ahead is: "One car length for every 10 m.p.h. of speed." This is a minimum. And it applies only to driving in good conditions. When driving conditions are poor, the distance must be increased.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

COMMON BARBERRY BLAMED FOR SPREADING OAT STEM RUST

The common barberry, introduced to North America as an ornamental hedge shrub, is today the culprit behind widespread oat stem rust in Eastern Canada, says Dr. F. J. Zillinsky.

The federal scientist, on the staff of the Genetics and Plant Breeding Institute at Ottawa, says the danger of infecting certain cereals and grasses in all parts of Canada will not be removed until a countrywide program of barberry eradication has been carried through successfully.

Previous campaigns were dropped as shrub numbers decreased and rust-resistant plant varieties were developed.

However, discoveries of new races of rust in the lower St. Lawrence Valley and eastern Ontario were traced back to barberry bushes which have become established in many parts of Canada as wild plants.

In recent years rust races 6A, 8A and 13A built up very rapidly. The speed with which new races build up is as disturbing as their ability to infect many genetically different varieties, says Dr. Zillinsky.

Nursery plantings of grasses and cereals possessing all the available types of resistance to stem rust were found infected by rust originating on nearby barberry bushes. A new source for rust resistance in these areas must be sought, but any such source would continue to be threatened until all barberry bushes are destroyed.

Dr. Zillinsky says the bush is host of the overwintering stage of stem rust and provides the spores for infection of crops early in the season. It is also the breeding ground for the production of new races of stem rust, being the key link in the sexual phase of their life cycle.

New virulent races are being produced on barberry faster than resistant varieties can be developed.

HIGH LAYERS NEED EXTRA CALCIUM

Hens in high production need an extra dash of calcium in their diet.

This, says H. W. R. Chancey, of the federal experimental farms, applies to birds that do not have free access to limestone or oystershell.

In tests with Leghorns at the farm it was found that both egg production and shell quality improved when calcium content in the ration was increased to three per cent from the recommended 2.25 per cent.

Chancey says calculations have proved the need for the extra calcium intake.

He points out that in a large egg there are 2.25 grams of calcium and that the hen can use only half of the calcium consumed to make the shell. Therefore, he adds, at 80 per cent production a hen must consume 3.5 grams of calcium daily.

This means that the calcium level must be about three per cent for hens consuming feed at the rate of 27 pounds per 100 birds each day.

Limestone or oystershell should be made available to the birds when there is any doubt about the level of calcium in their rations, he advises.

What about too much calcium? 'Chancey' is reassuring on this point. He says there does not appear to be any danger of hens eating too much of it and he points out that a ration containing six per cent calcium did not cause any trouble.

Don't fool around with a loaded gun. Many wise guys end up dead ones.

NEW SWEET CORN VARIETY AVAILABLE

Sunnyvee, a very early sweet corn, is being introduced by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. This variety has been very promising in experiment station and market garden trials across Canada and the northern United States. Sunnyvee has been tested for eight years at the Horticultural Experiment Station, Vineland, where it was originated by Dr. E. A. Kerr. In the past three years many growers have tested it under the code number VH 601.

Sunnyvee matures about a day later than Spanscross. However, Sunnyvee has much better flavour and tenderness and is expected to replace Spanscross in home gardens and in markets where eating quality is appreciated. It is a day earlier than North Star, which has been the main market sweet corn in Ontario.

Sunnyvee has exceptionally deep kernels for such an early variety. This, combined with its superior tenderness and sweetness, helps it retain satisfactory eating quality over a longer period than most early varieties.

Market gardeners will find that Sunnyvee is an excellent variety to grow as a first early. It has an attractive ear both when the husks are on and after they are removed. It is mostly 12-rowed and has a slightly lower percentage of 8 and 10-rowed ears than either Spanscross or North Star. The ears have averaged 7½ inches long and this, combined with its well-filled tips and straight compact rows, has resulted in consistently high ratings for appearance.

Sunnyvee is a first-generation hybrid sweet corn and, like other hybrids, must be produced each year from its inbred parents. Do not save seed of Sunnyvee because it will not come true to type.

Seed of Sunnyvee is available from several companies for 1963 planting.

ture Minister Stewart referred to the now defunct provisional marketing board and paid tribute to Whole Milk League President, Emerson Farnsworth who had acted as chairman. Many in Mr. Farnsworth's group were wincing at tomahawks at last week's meeting.

Mr. Stewart was also kind enough to suggest that the provisional board had served a useful function in bringing the problems of the dairy industry into clearer focus. Well, it may have done that for some people but most who knew anything about the dairy situation had realized them for a long time and the provisional board was able to solve none of them. And for the same reasons that none of the basic issues have been solved by any previous efforts. One hears a lot of terms to describe some of these basic problems such as a lack of communication, misunderstanding or even spreading misinformation, but we suggest that a great deal could be solved if enough people would raise their sights a little beyond their own pocketbook.

There's an old saw about 'all good things come to an end' which milk producers might bear in mind. Most will say they haven't a good thing now but it's a long way from what they had 25 years ago when the first of many pieces of legislation was introduced by a government of a different political coat. Most, if not all of the benefits for dairy farmers in this province, can be traced to legislation introduced by either the present Progressive Conservative government or the former Liberal regime. Of course, producers have done much to help themselves, but they could have done little without this assistance and it should not be considered a political issue. If it becomes one, producers stand to lose. One can sense reaction in formerly sympathetic government and non-government circles to the stubborn stand being taken on the formula price issue, for example. Most producers appear to want the formula price system but we suggest their present stand is more likely to destroy it forever. And what then?

Emerson Farnsworth told the Whole Milk League that chaos exists in the dairy industry today since the demise of the provisional board. What would it be like if the formula price system went? What if quotas were abolished and markets opened to all producers? Is it fair to liken producers to the army platoon marching steadily toward the cliff's edge while their officer fumbled for the proper command to turn them aside? Will the leadership revive in time?

CONSERVATION NEWS

TRAVEL OR PLAY SAFE ON UNSAFE ICE IS DANGEROUS

Ice long has been important in winter recreation and, particularly in the north, in transportation, too. But ice travel or play can be dangerous on streams and lakes unless various ice conditions are understood and heeded.

When ice freezes over moving water, it usually is thickest where the water moves least and thinnest where the water moves most. In most streams and rivers, even in summer, it is difficult to be sure of all the eddies and currents. When the water is covered with ice, this is impossible. Air and debris-laden water of streams often results in frozen foam instead of solid ice. Warmer surface water moving under the ice eats away at the underside of the ice cover, continuously changing its thickness. Also, the water level in streams is subject to change; when it lowers, the ice often is left suspended by the support of the shore or an air layer; it cannot support as much weight as ice suspended by water. Hence, safety precautions are imperative before travelling over stream and river ice.

Small water areas such as swamps and small ponds are among the first to freeze, but some contain warm springs and mud-grasses which cause weak spots so that such small bodies of water are often deceptive.

The ice on larger deep lakes is usually uniform and ice thickness tests can therefore be trusted. Care, however, must be taken to test the ice repeatedly as the distance from shore becomes greater. In lakes, as in streams and ponds, areas of shallow, muddy water and areas of current must be avoided.

A few general safety rules can be observed with profit:

Know the waters and ice over which you intend to walk. Know the depth of ice required to support the intended load.

Carry a long pole until you are absolutely satisfied that the ice is safe. Never carry a load strapped to your body when testing ice safety.

Always test the ice before walking on it.

Never trust ice over shallow or moving water; always re-test it.

Always carry matches in a water-proof safe.

Never trust anyone's testimony. If you are not qualified to test ice safety, don't walk on it.

Never let children judge the safety of ice or to play on ice over water unattended. Don't let children play near unsafe ice.

Remember: It's easier to fall in than to climb out!

Since World War II Canada's financial assistance to other countries has exceeded $4.7 billion; more than half of this amount has been in outright grants.

Migratory birds have been protected by a Canada-United States treaty since 1916.

The Ontario Safety League reminds drivers that good driving is co-operative, not competitive. It is better to be out-distanced than outlived.

Ontario Hydro's power developments are a major tourist attraction. Approximately 1,500,000 persons toured generating stations, visited Hydro displays and watched film and slide showings during 1962.

STIRLING HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

The Annual Meeting of the Stirling Horticultural Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Armstrong on Monday, January 14th at 2 p.m.

LEGION NOTES

All members of the Stirling Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion are advised that 1963 membership dues are now payable. Dues are $6.00 for the year and should be paid to Membership Chairman Doug Patterson as soon as possible. In order to maintain orderly records of branch membership, it is requested that all memberships be paid through the Membership Chairman, Doug Patterson.

A special membership night and pot luck supper will again be held at the Legion Hall. To date, no plans can be announced other than to say the event will be as enjoyable or more so than the most successful dinner held a year ago. It would appear that the special night will be held in late January or early February. More details will be announced shortly.

The Legion Arena is once again in operation. The arena is under the care of Mr. Alvin Rankin and the Legion Arena Committee is Comrades Ross Kira, Gilbert Finkle and Geo. Noble. Anyone wishing to rent the arena should contact Mr. Kira at EX 5-2048. The public are invited to make use of the arena. The canteen is warm and well stocked, dressing room facilities are in excellent condition and public skating will be held every Saturday evening from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. and on Sunday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Following the disastrous loss of Frankford Arena to fire just a few days before Christmas, the Legion has made the local arena available to the Frankford Minor Hockey Association for one night a week through the month of January. The Legion in making this neighbourly gesture felt that the general public of Stirling would approve such assistance to a neighbouring community in time of trouble. It is the hope of the Legion that Stirling will never find themselves in a similar predicament.

In the central Hastings area there are now three communities without adequate area facilities. Tweed, Frankford and Campbellford. This should serve to make us realize how fortunate we are to have an arena to serve our community.

Minor hockey activity in Stirling is at a peak with no less than four teams playing in various district leagues. In addition, the local Squirt and Pee Wee leagues are operating every Saturday morning from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. Local residents are urged to take in one of these Saturday morning games.

Again, a reminder to all members to pay your dues promptly. Any new eligible members are invited to contact the Membership Chairman at their convenience.

Appointments Made At Inaugural Meeting of Municipal Council

Members Took Oath of Office at 11 a.m.—Lengthy Meeting Held In Evening

Naming of Standing Committees for the year, making appointments to the various municipal bodies and discussion of routine matters marked the inaugural meeting of Village Council on Monday.

Members of Council took the oath at 11 o'clock Monday morning, after which Reeve G. C. Mouck addressed Council.

First Anniversary St. Paul's U.C.W. Unit Six

In St. Paul's Church on the afternoon of January 8th, Unit Six of the United Church Women held its first meeting of the new year, with a splendid attendance.

The leader, Mrs. R. A. Patterson, extended a gracious welcome to the members and read a splendid new year poem, followed by prayer.

The business was conducted first. The Secretary, Mrs. Ross Bush, read the minutes and on motion a special vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Patterson for her faithful leadership in this first year of the new organization, this item to be included in the minutes of 1963. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Hough, showed a total of $421.19. Various other secretaries also told of their accomplishments. Some 200 church calls had been made.

Mrs. Patterson brought highlights from the General executive meeting held recently. Some of these were:

- (1) The women are to cater for the Masonic banquet on January 17th.
- (2) The Congregational Meeting is to be held January 23rd with a pot luck supper at 7 p.m. to precede the business of the year.

(3) The Annual Presbyterian Meeting is to be in Milton on January 23rd. A bus will be available and any women wishing to attend will please telephone Mrs. D. Duffin, President of the General U.C.W. of St. Paul's.

(4) The World Day of Prayer will be held in the Anglican Church on March 1st, the first Friday of Lent.

(5) A recommendation was made to hold a bazaar in November and Units were asked to offer suggestions for booths and decide on what they would specialize.

(6) "On Asia's Rim" is the study for the year. This study concerns the smaller Asian countries and the women are asked to be on the lookout for news items concerning these and keep same in a scrap book for information.

(7) For Bible study, "The Word and the Way" has already been introduced by the Rev. P. Hommersen in weekly classes.

(8) Life Memberships to the U.C.W. Women may be obtained for the sum of $20.00. This includes the membership pin.

Mrs. C. Lansing and Mrs. A. Bush were in charge of the programme with Mrs. Bush acting as chairman. The Scripture Lesson from Proverbs 3: 11-19, was read by Mrs. Elwood Johnson, who also made comments thereon. Closing the devotionals, prayer was offered by Mrs. Patterson.

Mrs. H. Doman gave a helpful paper on "Thoughts for the New Year," reminding her listeners that in the past our power of memory shows us how God has led and guided us. In the present we should feel our urgent responsibility for we shall not pass this way again. For the future we face the years ahead with faith in God and steady hearts. She closed with this familiar poem:

I know not where His islands lift
Their fringed palms in air,
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care"

Mrs. Harold West's lovely solo, "God Hath Promised," was especially appreciated. Mrs. C. Lansing fittingly closed the programme with some splendid thoughts on "Worthy Stewards," finishing with a prayer, "The Steward's Prayer," a copy of which was given each member who joined in corporate petition. These were also to be taken home for future private use.

At this time Unit Four joined Six for re-organization and the tea hour. For various reasons Unit Four accepted the kind invitation of Unit Six to join them for the year ahead, lack of leadership being one of the main difficulties. This resulted in the following set-up for the organization.

Leader — Mrs. R. A. Patterson
Assistants — Mrs. W. Camm and

Mrs. Harold Wells

Secretary — Mrs. Ross Bush
Treasurer — Mrs. J. B. Hough
Planner — Mrs. H. West

Assistant — Mrs. C. David
Press — Mrs. E. Eggleton and Mrs. C. Lansing

Membership — Mrs. A. Brooks and Mrs. S. Williams

Community Friendship and Visiting — Mrs. D. Laury and Mrs. H. Waite

Social Functions — Mrs. T. Beatty and Mrs. Leslie Thompson

Programme — Mrs. V. Richardson, Mrs. P. Utman, Mrs. C. Davidson and Mrs. R. A. Patterson

Telephone — Mrs. R. Duffin and Mrs. W. West.

The Sunday school rooms looked very cheery and festive as befitted the occasion of a first birthday meeting and a long table beautifully decorated was centred with a lovely birthday cake made by the leader, Mrs. Patterson. This, along with cookies and a refreshing cup of tea made the social hour together most enjoyable and appreciation was expressed to those who by their thought and efforts had made this first meeting of the new year, one so rich in spiritual blessing and social fellowship.

Orangeman, a staunch Conservative and a valued employee of the Hastings County road system.

Both Mr. and Mrs. French have been closely associated with Bethesda Church, where Mr. French is an elder, also with White Lake School and community activities.

Though Mr. and Mrs. French have no family of their own, they often opened their doors to relatives who were ill or lonely. A brother-in-law, Mr. Garfield Runnalls, now makes his home with them.

"They have lived in a 'house by the side of the road' and been a friend to man."

Their many friends offer congratulations and wish for them many happy anniversaries.

They were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

Ranger News

The meeting of December 27th was held in the Stirling Community Hall in the form of a party.

Susan Webber and Mary Ellen Warren led the group in the Virginia Reel. The girls also participated in several games conducted by Sharon Scott and Ruth Howard. Dancing was enjoyed by everyone for the latter part of the evening.

To conclude the programme the girls assembled at the home of Mrs. M. Bell for a delicious lunch. Various prizes were given to girls with numbers on the bottom of their plates, to those whose birthday came near Christmas or near Thinking Day. Captain Bell was presented with a Corn Flower dish from the Rangers.

The girls expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Chambers for the wonderful evening.

On January 8th the First Stirling Rangers met at the home of Mrs. M. Bell.

Following the Lord's Prayer the Secretary, Linda Wagner, read the minutes of the previous meeting. During the business the girls discussed and decided to sponsor a trip to the Ice Follies.

For the latter part of the evening the girls made bandages for the Cancer Society.

A delightful lunch was served by the leaders and the meeting closed with Taps.

How things change! Nowadays when the doctor finds a patient in a run-down condition, he prescribes less golf and more time at the office.

Do You Remember?

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

ISSUE OF JANUARY 13th, 1938

Roy Eggleston, local contractor, has been awarded the contract for rebuilding the interior of Trinity United Church, Hastings, which was gutted by fire Sunday morning, January 2nd.

A frame house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. Dainard and family and owned by David Wallace, west of Henry St., was practically destroyed by fire on Monday.

The Guides and Brownies remembered Mrs. J. Wilson, a member of the Girl Guide Council, prior to her departure for Welland at a meeting held Thursday at the High School.

Wm. Broadworth, of Rawdon Township, died at his home on the Stirling-Marmora Highway, on Monday following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. James Ryan, Holloway, died in Belleville General Hospital, January 6th.

Dr. Thos. Hume Bissonnette, Professor of Biology, in Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Bissonnette, of Stirling, has been awarded the star for research in the new edition of "American Men of Science." Dr. Bissonnette's star was for investigations of the effects of external factors such as light upon the seasonal breeding activities of birds and mammals.

Stanley Dainard sustained a broken shoulder when boarded heavily in a hockey game between Glen Ross and Zion at the local Arena.

Local
Des Jackman, Kingston, spent the week-end at his home here.

Mrs. Geo. Lagrow left on Tuesday to spend the winter in Toronto with her niece, Miss Pearl McCann.

Messrs John Munro, Arthur Gould, Wm. Sutherland and Ray Mallory have returned to O.A.C., Guelph, following their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow left today to spend the winter in Florida.

THE BIBLE TODAY

In commemoration of the bi-centenary of the birth of William Carey, of Serampore, the great pioneer missionary and Bible translator, the Bible Society of India and Ceylon has set up a fund to train students in India for the continuing task of Bible translating.

Dr. A. E. Inbanathan, the general secretary of the Bible Society of India and Ceylon, in announcing the fund said it was made possible by the help of a friend in Great Britain.

Scholarships will be available for the study of Biblical languages and "modern linguistics" in their bearing on translation in tribal languages.

The great need today for translating the Scriptures into new languages, or revising earlier outdated translations, makes language study a growing field of missionary service for personnel volunteering for overseas, says a Bible Society official.

Resigns After 32 Years' Service

At the regular meeting of the Village Council held on Monday the resignation of R. A. Patterson as a member of the Board of Health was accepted. Mr. Patterson has served on this Board for thirty-two years and in addition has to his credit some seventeen years as Village Treasurer and ten years as a member of the Board of Education and Public School Board.

In his letter of resignation he pays tribute to many with whom he was associated during his years of service. His letter follows:

The Reeve and Council
Village of Stirling.

Dear Sir and Sirs:
May I take a moment of your time, not to blow my own horn but rather to recall a few facts that may be of some interest to you? For seventeen years I served the Village of Stirling as its Treasurer. I would like to pay tribute to and mention a few of my associates who also served during this time.

When I accepted the office as Treasurer, the late Thomas Montgomery was Reeve. It was under his leadership and that of William C. West that I spent more than half of my term in office. These two stalwarts accomplished much for Stirling and served this Village well. It was also my privilege to work with such names as the late Lindsay Melkielejohn, Thomas Cranston, D. A. Burklitt, E. G. Bailey and Frank Stapley, C. B. Rollins, Harper Rollins and others of more recent date.

I served some ten years on the Board of Education and the Public School Board which brought me in contact with such faithful men as the late C. F. Walt, J. S. Morton, C. I. Hatton, Ewart Bailey and Dr. E. A. Carleton, and Walter Wright, Earl Fox, R. W. Melkielejohn, Ham Donnan, J. B. Belshaw (the daddy of them all) and many others.

The late Dr. H. H. Alger was the Medical Officer of Health when I was appointed to the Board of Health in 1930 by the Council. I will always remember the unselfish and efficient service given by the late Dr. E. A. Carleton as M.O.H. It has also been a pleasure to meet on this board with Dr. W. Hipwell, our present M.O.H., and Graham Mouck, our present Reeve.

My office often brought me in contact with F. A. Sprentall, the former manager of hydro, whose advice on municipal matters I always respected. Then last but not least "The Press." Mr. Tompkins in those days attended all meetings as a reporter for his paper. He's a bear for punishment — he still does. He was also a member of the School Board and can boast of longer service there than I.

The strength of any machine is its horsepower. I believe the work horse of a Council is its Secretary-Treasurer. Therefore G. H. Luery, F. R. Mallory and the present Secretary-Treasurer, L. Pollock, take a bow.

As a citizen of this Village I wish to thank you Mr. Reeve and Council and officers for the service and sacrifice you are making for such as I. As a member of Board of Health I wish to thank the various Councils for my 32 years of yearly appointments. My experiences in the various offices have been a great education to me and as I look back over them I feel a satisfaction that I have in some small way been of service to my community. I thank God that at my age my health is very good and in order to preserve that health I'd like to drop a few of the obligations I enjoyed so much. I therefore reluctantly ask you to accept my resignation from the Board of Health and trust that your new appointee may enjoy his service as much as I have.

Yours very sincerely,

R. A. Patterson

Elaine Footwear Lose and Tie

Spring Brook Indians outplayed the Stirling Elaine squad by a considerable margin in Marmora on Thursday last, January 10th, but backed by the steady net-minding of Taylor, the locals held on for 2-2 tie. Spring Brook outshot Stirling 40 to 25.

Stirling led 1-0 at the end of the first period on a goal by Ross Anderson. Spring Brook evened it up in the second stanza before Fairies put the Elaine team ahead 2-1. Spring Brook got the lone tally in the third period on a pretty passing play around the Elaine net.

Ross Ray in the Spring Brook net held off a last minute attack by Stirling to maintain the tie.

R. Kinton refereed.

Spring Brook Rout Elaines
"We were a game and valiant crew
Their chances were many and ours were few;
They fired that puck straight and true,
The final score stood nine to two."

Spring Brook Indians defeated the Stirling Elaine squad Monday night at the local arena by the tune of 9-2. Spring Brook displayed great fore-checking and puck control dominating the play. They outshot Elaines 40-30.

Ross Ray in the Spring Brook nets was steady throughout, while Taylor in the Stirling nets seemed shaky at times.

Ricky Little and Bob McCrory scored for Stirling. Doug McCrory also played heads-up hockey, handing out several bone-jarring bodychecks. Glen Hagerman officiated.

Mount Pleasant U.C. Women

The January meeting of Mount Pleasant United Church Women was held on Thursday at the Church Hall. Twenty-four ladies and four pre-school children were in attendance.

This chapter was read and summarized.

The devotional opened with "More Love to Thee." The meditations were read by Mrs. William McAdam and Mrs. Harry McAdam and the Bible lesson by Mrs. G. Hubble. Mrs. David offered prayer. Mrs. Thos. Saries sang "Our God is Great" with Mrs. K. Weaver as accompanist. Kathy Sharpe dedicated the offering and Mrs. Clarence Scott gave the dedication.

HONEY AND APPLES

The scent of last fall's harvest fills the house when you cook with honey and apples. Here are some recipes from the Consumer Section Canada Department of Agriculture in Ottawa using these lovely products.

Honey-Apple Sauce For Fried Chicken

Dredge 5 to 6 pounds cut up chicken in 1 cup flour seasoned with 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper and 13 teaspoons paprika. Let stand on rack for 20 minutes. Heat 1 inch of fat in heavy frying and until hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 30 seconds. Fry pieces uncovered, turning several times, until they are an even, golden brown — 5 to 10 minutes. Cover, reduce heat and continue cooking slowly until chicken is fork tender — 25 to 30 minutes. Meanwhile make the sauce. Measure and mix 1 cup apple juice; 2 tablespoons liquid honey; 1 cup finely chopped parsley. Spoon sauce over top of cooked chicken, arranged skin side up, and continue to fry, uncovered, for 10 minutes longer. Drain on absorbent paper. Serves 6 to 8.

Honey Whipped Topping

1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
23 cup skim milk powder
Few grains salt
1 to 1 1/2 cup honey
(No 1 White)

Measure water and lemon juice into a deep mixing bowl. Add skim milk powder and salt. Blend well, then beat with a rotary beater or an electric mixer (medium-high speed) until mixture stands in firm peaks — about 5 minutes. Gradually beat honey into whipped mixture. Chill. Makes about 3 cups. Lovely on gingerbread.

Honey-Apple Rings

Try Apple Rings, simmered in honey until tender, as a garnish for your ham.

Honey Vanilla Sauce With Apple Cobbler

Place thick layers of sliced, peeled apples (4 cups) in deep baking dish. Add 2 tablespoons water. Sprinkle with sugar and spices to taste. Cover with rich tea biscuit dough. Serve warm or cold with Honey Vanilla Sauce.

To Make Sauce

Combine 1 cup honey with 1 cup water and 1 tablespoon butter in a saucepan. Bring slowly to a gentle boil. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Makes 1 cup.

Honey Meringue For Apple Tarts

Add 2 cups apple sauce and 1 cup sugar to 2 beaten egg yolks. Cook over hot water until thickened. Flavour with 1 teaspoon almond extract. Pipe into tart shells. Cover with meringue made from 1 cup honey and 2 egg whites beaten in a bowl until mixture stands in peaks. Brown in moderate oven, 350 degs. F. (If crystalline honey is used, it should be beaten until soft and creamy before adding egg whites.)

Baked Honey-Apples

Wash and core apples. Fill each with a mixture of honey, chopped nuts and raisins. Place in pan and add 1 tablespoon of water per apple. Bake apples uncovered at 350, 375 or 400 degs. F. until tender for 20 to 50 minutes.

utes depending on oven temperature. This range in temperature means that apples can be slipped into the oven with other foods, such as potatoes, cookies, quick breads, fish etc.

Cooking Comments

Macdonald Institute, Guelph, suggests that you use leftover carrots, beans and peas in jellied salad, or put them in a mushroom soup sauce and top with grated cheese for a hot side dish.

Home economists say that we should make better use of our oven. On nights when roast beef is on the menu, why not complete the meal with baked potatoes, scalloped tomatoes and an apple crisp?

All cheese dishes should be cooked at a low temperature, 325 degs. F., because the protein is made tough by extreme heat. When cheese is toasted, we sacrifice some nutritive value in favour of flavour.

A sensible idea for a buffet supper is to serve the casseroles or molded salads in two or more dishes instead of one large one. A fresh dish replacing the first service keeps the buffet attractive.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

LIFE ISN'T EASY

Reports from the Venus probe indicate that it is unlikely that planet can support life. Well, it isn't too easy to support on this one!

Parents make a mistake when they raise a child to think this world is an easy one. A child should be allowed to stub his toes early, to fall from bicycles, to get a black eye and broken lips, to do without, to share the work around the home. In the old days, there was wood to chop, water to carry, and those chores were good for us. Today, too many lads enter the adult world with no toughening up to enable them to face difficulties.

I know one lad who owns an old car. When a part breaks down, he must save for a new one, or devise a part. He probably feels sorry for himself. In my opinion, he is better off than another lad whose father sees to it that he has a new car and that it is repaired on demand. One is developing character, patience, and other worthwhile qualities; while the so-called lucky lad is going to be soft. When life starts to batter these boys later on — as it will do in one way or another — I believe the boy that is learning to take knocks now will stand up better.

To stand up on one's own to the difficulties this life presents to each individual is not easy. It requires advance training. It requires an ability to take it. For the person able to do this, life is a thrilling experience.

Some parents deny their children this training. Then they are surprised when, at the very first buffeting the adolescent caves in, because he has not been properly tempered. Instead of enjoying the security that comes from individual ability and strength, the child finds life just too much to face. Some end up in Mental al Hospitals or similar institutions, the only place where they can find the so-called "security" their parents forced on them.

"THE HEART STORY"

Hardened Arteries Key To Most Heart Disease

This is the first of a series of articles by David Spurgeon, published for the Heart Foundation of Canada.

The most common forms of heart disease are congenital conditions, which are present at birth; rheumatic heart disease, a result of rheumatic fever; hypertensive heart disease, which is caused by high blood pressure; and atherosclerotic heart disease, caused by narrowing and hardening of the arteries.

Three of the conditions — hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever — cause more than 90 per cent of all heart disease.

In atherosclerosis, arteries become narrowed and roughened by the long-term build-up in their inner lining of a fatty substance called cholesterol. If this happens in the arteries of the heart, a clot may form, blocking off blood and causing a heart attack.

In hypertension, or high blood pressure, resistance is offered to blood flow through similar narrowing of blood vessels, and, to keep up the necessary flow, the heart must work harder. This may cause it to enlarge or to fail, or a hardened blood vessel may burst.

If hardening of the arteries or high blood pressure causes a clot to form in such a way it blocks the flow of blood to the brain, the result is known as a stroke.

Rheumatic fever is almost always preceded by a streptococcus infection, commonly known as "strep throat." If the infection is not controlled by antibiotics, it may lead to rheumatic fever and thus to rheumatic heart disease.

These are the effects of the disorders which are responsible for the great majority of heart disease cases. But what of the underlying causes of the disorders themselves?

What causes arteries to become thickened and narrowed?

What are the exact mechanisms responsible for high blood pressure? And what is the process through which strep infection leads to rheumatic fever and then to rheumatic heart disease?

The answers to these questions are as yet unknown. They must be found if final victory over heart disease is to be achieved.

Some of the ways in which answers to these and other vital questions about heart diseases are being sought and will be described in following weeks.

January Meeting Wellman's U.C.W.

The ladies of Wellman's United Church Women held their meeting at the Church on Thursday, January 10th with 14 adults and 5 children in attendance.

The President, Mrs. John Carlisle, opened the meeting by reading the U.C.W. theme, Psalm CXVII and everyone joined in the theme hymn. Mrs. Frederick Beckett was musician for the meeting.

Mrs. Jim Pollock was in charge of the devotional, beginning her subject with "I Am the Door." The hymn, "Standing at the Portal of the Opening Year" was sung. Mrs. Byron Seeley read from the Bible, John 10: 1-14. Mrs. Frederick Beckett sang "The Lord's My Shepherd," accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Clancy at the piano. Mrs. Pollock gave a short topic based on "1963 Who Walks with You." She stated that we all have our choice of following God, thus not allowing ourselves to be led astray by Satan. Trust in God is one of the big factors of our lives. Mrs. Pollock closed with prayer.

A dedication of the officers and members to the Church was read by Mrs. Carlisle following with prayer. All joined in the Lord's Prayer.

Little Miss Valerie Clancy took up the offering which was dedicated by Mrs. Carlisle. Everyone answered the roll call, a verse from the Bible containing the word "Trust." The minutes read by Mrs. Ken Tompkins were approved.

A few points of interest from the clip sheet were given by Mrs. Tompkins; also matters from the Official Board meeting of interest to the members. In connection with these Mrs. Gerald Russett was appointed to the Manse Committee and Mrs. Omar Dracup to the Board of Stewards. It was decided to hold the Congregational Meeting at the Church on Tuesday, January 15th.

Mrs. Douglas Clancy gave the financial report with a balance of $862.91.

Mrs. Gerald Clancy favoured with a piano solo, "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Miss Emma Rainie gave a reading entitled "The New Year's Open Door."

Mrs. W. G. Fletcher conducted the Bible study under the heading "God, the Creator," then measuring this down to the beginnings. The first chapter of Genesis, verses 1, 26 and 31 were read. First there was a God before creation, then He created and following this man was made in God's image. Again in John, verses 1-5, the beginning is stressed. Christ was sent by God to us. Mrs. Fletcher advocated that everyone take God into all beginnings of this new year. Rev. Fletcher conducted a discussion on the "Creation of the World," stressing the importance of the one word "Creation."

Mrs. Carlisle thanked everyone taking any part at the meeting and closed with prayer. A social half hour was enjoyed while the lunch committee served delicious refreshments.

In the coming fiscal year interest on the federal public debt will cost $761,840,900.

Roll call was answered by "The best advice I ever had." Mrs. Ernest Irwin was the acting convener in the absence of Mrs. Eldon Anderson. Following is the balance of the program:

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Some time was spent in reminiscing over events in 1962. Rowena Kerr won the attendance prize.

Drivers Negligent In W. Wu Death

Both drivers involved in a two-car crash on St. Laurent Blvd., Ottawa, December 9th, which killed a 26-year-old Chinese Carleton University student, were found negligent by a coroner's jury Thursday night.

The inquest was looking into the death of Wilson Chechiang Wu who was a passenger in a Volkswagen that rammed into the side of a larger car.

The small car was driven by Frederick Erskine Clark, 22, of 101 First Avenue, also a Carleton student. He said at the inquest that the other car backed out onto the road in front of him "like a shot."

The driver of the other car, Steven Frank Reil, 17, of 841 Montreal Road, Ottawa, said the small car was far off when he backed out, "but came up very fast."

The jury said it was unanimous in finding both drivers negligent.

Medical evidence showed Wu died of asphyxiation. Although he had many serious injuries, the cause of death was choking from food forced into his bronchial tree by the impact.

Mr. Wu was employed by Proctor and Redfern, consultant engineers, on the street construction in Stirling last summer and was well known to many local citizens.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Furrow and Fallow By Fairbairn

A new method of establishing egg price quotations is being developed in Ontario and will probably be in effect by early Spring. At present the Canada Department of Agriculture issues daily quotations from Toronto based on a spot check of sales made to brokers in that city from country points. Officials estimate that not more than ten per cent of the eggs produced in the province are now handled by these brokers. Other estimates range down to five per cent. In either case, most people in the industry are aware that this price does not accurately reflect the market and because of the relatively small number of eggs passing through these channels the possibility of manipulation is increased. Drastic price drops in the fall of 1962 were obviously caused by manipulation since supplies at the time of the breaks were not heavy and demand generally was good. In fact, it is known that price declines were caused by relatively small quantities of eggs being offered far below prices quoted. Despite the fact that quoted prices are based on this small percentage of current supplies, Toronto prices do establish levels for the entire province.

An industry committee has been working with CDA officials to try to develop a system that will provide a broader base for quotations and while there is no definite indication at present as to the form this may take, progress is being made. Officials express the hope that some new system will be operative by the end of the first quarter of 1963. There are three possible levels at which egg price quotations can be made (1) the price to producers; (2) prices for loose eggs at country points (which is the present system) and (3) wholesale prices to the retail trade (this would be for eggs in cartons). The first would be extremely difficult to obtain on a daily basis and because of the large number of producers who receive premiums, those who sell direct to retail or consumers, the variation in sales methods and other factors such quotations might not give a much more accurate picture than the current method.

Producer representatives did not participate in the early meetings but have now been informed of developments. President Tom Robson of the Ontario Egg Producers Association maintains that no true price can be established unless all eggs are offered to all buyers on an open market. The producer association has been trying to develop some system whereby a producer board could offer all eggs to all buyers. This would require the establishment of a marketing plan under the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board. With the assistance of The Bell Telephone Company which evolved the auction teletype system used by the high producers, Mr. Robson and his associates feel they are nearing a solution to their problem.

Actually, Ontario egg producers have been trying to develop a marketing plan for the past three years and while progress has been made it is unlikely that any provincial marketing board will be established in the near future. If the auction teletype system could be instituted, there would be no problem in obtaining authentic prices at any time of the day. However, since the bulk of the eggs would then be sold through this system, the value of authoritative quotations would not be nearly as great. Of course, these would be useful to producers selling direct to consumers since presumably these producers would not sell their eggs through the marketing board.

One of the main difficulties confronting the proponents of an egg marketing plan is this one of exemption. All producers would contribute to the plan but some might still sell their own eggs. It is not improbable that more producers could market outside the board than under it. That is not to say that most of the eggs produced in the province would be sold outside the plan — to the contrary. But since many small producers now have their own sales set-up they would oppose a marketing plan unless it made allowances for their type of operation. Thus, one could speculate on the anomaly of a plan voted in by those least affected by it.

The Village of Haliburton is at an altitude of 1,200 feet above sea level, and is surrounded by more than 600 lakes. Sawmills still operate in the area where once lumbering was the principal industry.

CONSERVATION NEWS

WINTER HUNTING ACTIVITIES

Hunting activities in the district are now reduced to a moderate level. Aside from the small game hunter out for a day's hunt for rabbit, there is very little activity.

Some organized wolf hunting is being carried on, but to date hunters have had very little success. It appears that the wary wolf is able to run the gauntlet between the hunters or has moved out of the area being hunted leaving only his tracks behind.

Fox hunting, once a popular sport in the district, has been reduced to a minimum because of the large scale die-off of this species due to rabies infection. Some fine kennels of fox hounds kept by hunters in the district have had little practice in the past few years.

During the time when the fox was abundant considerable blame was placed on the fox for the downward trend in the grouse population from time to time.

It would appear now that the grouse population level has fallen to a very low ebb at a time when the fox population has been almost nil for the past four years. This points up the fact that grouse populations will dwindle in spite of the level of the predators around them.

Most of the small game hunting is done in the agricultural areas of the district which of course means that hunters in most cases use the private property of others while hunting. The use of private property for hunting undoubtedly is one of the greatest assets that a hunter can attain at this particular time when areas on which to hunt are fast becoming a scarce commodity in the face of an ever increasing population.

In order to preserve the use of private property hunters will have to first go to the landowners and seek their permission to use these private lands, and secondly make sure that there are no abuses of property including fences, livestock, buildings, etc., if these privileges of private land use for hunting are to be maintained.

LEGION NOTES

Branch President Allan Lawes has called a meeting of the executive of the Stirling Legion for next Tuesday, January 22nd at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall. All executive members are asked to be in attendance. Two important items will be discussed. One deals with the annual Legion Skating Carnival, and another item deals with the proposed Legion Skating party for all Legion members. Remember this executive meeting next Tuesday, January 22nd at 8 p.m.

Once again we remind all comrades that their 1963 dues are now payable. Dues are $6.00 and can be paid to the Branch Membership Chairman, Comrade Doug Patterson. We ask you to look after this obligation as soon as possible.

The Legion held its regular January business meeting at the hall on Tuesday, January 8th. Several important items of business were discussed. All committee chairmen were elected. New chairmen are as follows:

Sgt.-at-Arms, Bruce Glendinning; Poppy Committee, Bert Bastedo; Service Officer, Ray Tanner; Membership, Doug Patterson; Property and Building — G. Finkle, M. Armstrong, R. West and W. DeJong; Sports Officer, Elwood Wilson; Padre, Rev. F. Downing; Boy Scout Committee, Eugene Burrell, Bruce Glendinning; Arena Committee, Ross Kirn, George Noble, G. Finkle; Publicity, D. Patterson, B. Bastedo, F. Houchin.

All members of the branch are advised that the Belleville Legion will be host to the Zone F-3 general meeting to be held on Sunday, February 3rd in Belleville. These meetings are most interesting and informative and it is hoped that all members will make a special effort to attend this session of the Legion Branches in our Zone. Anyone interested in attending this meeting should contact the Branch President Comrade Allan Lawes or Secretary Bert Bastedo.

At the business meeting of January 8th, the Branch was favoured with an excellent report of the activities of the local Boy Scout Organization during the year 1962. The report was presented by Group Chairman, C. E. West. The local Branch of the Legion is the sponsoring organization and as such was very pleased to note the excellent progress and achievement as outlined by Mr. West. Following the report a general discussion of the responsibilities and duties of the Legion as the official sponsors was held. It was generally agreed that they would support in every possible way the activities of the Boy Scout organization in Stirling. The Legion representatives to the Association will be asked to bring back periodical reports so that the Legion can fulfill its obligation in this regard.

We urge all branch members to give special attention to the January issue of the Legionary. On page 15 is outlined the Legion Membership programme for 1963. Not only is this of vital interest to all branches, but it is felt that every member should be acquainted with the problems relating to Legion membership.

It will be noted that this branch has expanded the Property Committee and has also added to its responsibilities by making it also responsible for future planning of expansion of the Legion Hall. At present the branch has a building fund, part of which has been designated for a new floor in the existing Legion Hall. It was felt that a small group could investigate all aspects of this problem, and then present its recommendations to a general meeting. Another item handed to the committee will be the matter of the exterior finishing of the Legion Hall and the landscaping of same.

Once again, a reminder of the executive meeting to be held at the Legion Hall on Tuesday, January 22 at 8 p.m. All executive members are asked to be on hand for this important meeting.

Wellman's Institute Hold Family Night

The January meeting of the Wellman's Institute was held in the form of a Family Night at the Orange Hall on Friday the 18th with a good attendance.

The first item of the evening was a pot luck supper which got under way about 7.30 p.m. Mrs. Ken Tompkins led in singing grace and all sat down to a table laden with good food and enjoyed the meal to the fullest.

The President called the gathering to order after supper and took charge of the programme which was to be one number from each family.

Mrs. John Carlisle gave a reading, "Upset Stomach." Miss Virginia Pollock rendered a solo, "Twinkle Twinkle Star." Miss Carol Seeley favoured with a piano solo. Mrs. Ken Tompkins and Miss Nancy Tompkins gave a duet, "Patches." Miss Janice Clancy gave a tap dance number and Mrs. Gerald Russett favoured with a solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Mrs. Gerald Clancy thanked all who took part on the programme and brought up the Farm Forum Night which was the only item of business.

Six rounds of progressive euchre brought a very enjoyable evening to a close with Mrs. Robt. Wallace having high score.

Eggleton Messengers

The January meeting of the Eggleton Messengers was held at the school on Friday afternoon with 26 children and 3 adults in attendance. Lois Danford presided and opened the meeting with the hymn "Rock of Ages" with Wayne McMullen at the piano. The Scripture reading from the first chapter of St. Mark was read by Carol White.

A poem, "The Bridge," was given by Linda Prest, and following this an interesting story was read by Carol Danford.

Judy Johnson gathered the offering. The February meeting will be held at the school on the third Friday afternoon.

The leader and President are to look for suitable small hymn books for the Messengers.

Each one present received a little penny gift box. These are to be handed in at the June meeting. Proceeds will be used for a hospital in Korea as the special object for the Messengers this year is the Christian Movement in East Asia. Also in June there will be a wiener roast with the empty gift box to be the admission.

A verse of a translated Japanese hymn had been written on the blackboard by Billy Clarke and Terry Kovach. All the pupils took part in singing this with Mrs. Clancy playing the accompaniment.

The leader, Mrs. Maurice Clancy, read an interesting story, "Light Pictures," telling films being shown for the first time in Mr. Chin's Church. The pupils then enjoyed a short recreation period of art work. Carol Stapley and Judy Johnson distributed the World Friends papers. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Godden.

The lunch conveners, Carol White and Judy Johnson served delicious cookies and rice-marshmallow squares.

Elaines Lose To Cooper and Batawa

At Cooper on January 18th the North Stars built up a 5 to 1 lead by the second period and held off a determined Stirling Elaine comeback to take a narrow 5 to 4 decision. Defenceman Ross Anderson led the Stirling offensive with a goal and two assists. Bob Noble Noble picked up a pair of goals, while Doug McCrory fired the odd goal unassisted.

Cooper led 3-1 at the end of the first period. Noble fired the Stirling goal on a pass from Anderson. Cooper added two more early in the second before Stirling started their comeback. McCrory stole a loose puck at centre ice and outskated the defence to blast a 30-footer past Curtis. Noble and Anderson scored before the period ended.

The third stanza was scoreless with the play going from end to end with both teams missing on several opportunities. Stirling outshot Cooper 38 to 28. A good crowd was in attendance.

Bata-Stirling Stage Thriller

The Bata boys got a big surprise for they could only beat four to two and I guess we made them realize that the Stirling boys are a fighting crew.

But let's not forget the ref's hard luck. He got hit on the shin with a flying puck.

Well we'll get another chance on Thursday. And then we'll start on our winning ways.

The Bata Bombers ran into a hard-checking, determined Stirling squad Monday night at the local arena and had to go all out to salvage a 4-2 decision over the locals. Stirling came up with their best performance of the year although outshot 43 to 30. The play went from end to end with many bruising checks handed out. Elaines lost the services of fiery hard-rock forward Doug McCrory with a badly bruised ankle.

Bata opened the scoring midway through the first period when Pete McLeod drove home a goal-mouth pass. Stirling tied it up late in the first when Allan Bird picked up a loose puck near centre and stick-handled through the Bata defense and drove the puck past the Bata goalie.

Early in the second Kinton stole a pass near the Bata net and backhanded it home. Bata knotted the count late in the period when Doug Keilar rifled in past Taylor on a rebound. Bill Roberts and Gerald McDonald added the winning and insurance goals midway through the final stanza. Elaines suffered one serious injury to McCrory and minor injuries to A. Kinton and B. Taylor.

J. Haggerty and R. Kinton officiated.

On Thursday night of last week the Bata squad defeated Spring Brook 11-5 in Marmora.

THE BIBLE TODAY

Distributing surplus food stocks to the world's hungry nations is the concern of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the U.N. The general secretary, U. Thant, has described this program as "a milestone in the development of the United Nations' economic and social work."

The Christian Churches are promoting a Freedom from Hunger Campaign. "Food production in the world's hungry areas can be raised by agricultural training and mechanical farming," they say. Tractors and plow are being requested for Africa and Asia.

The Evangelical Church in Germany is sponsoring a Bread For The World campaign. The postal authorities in West Germany have issued a special run of twenty million stamps. Proceeds from the sale of the stamps are being used for food shipments, medical aid and other assistance in Africa, Asia, Latin America and Europe.

In the same countries where physical hunger exists there is an increased demand for the Scriptures, often spoken of as the Bread of Life.

Grade XIII Students See Shaw's "Arms and the Man"

(By Bonnie Dracup)

With the rolling crescendo of the drums and the dimming of the lights, the audience surged to its feet to stand at attention on the first chord of "God Save the Queen." At last the long anticipated moment for the Stirling Grade Thirteen Literature Class had arrived. As the revolving stage of the Crest Theatre, Toronto, pivoted around in the darkness, each student, on the edge of his seat, strained his eyes to discern the faint images of the stage-setting for George Bernard Shaw's play, "Arms and the Man."

Through a large shuttered window streamed the moonlight of a late November night, silhouetting Raina, a romantic young lady played by Jackie Burroughs, and revealing a lady's bedroom during 1885 in Bulgaria. By this window the hero, William Bryden, as Captain Bluntschli, gained access to the stage, immediately capturing the rapt attention of his listeners. Quickly the play proceeded to act two, creating a tangled web which encircled Raina, Bluntschli, Sergius—Raina's fiancé, and Touka, Raina's maid. Act three drew the play to completion.

As the cast acknowledged the thunderous applause with gracious bows, everyone felt greatly indebted to Mr. Hay-Elis, the English teacher, for securing the tickets to this unique performance on Saturday, January the nineteenth.

In Memoriam

RODGERS — In loving memory of a beloved husband and father, Arthur Rodgers, who passed away January 29th, 1958.

My heart still aches with sadness
And secret tears will flow;
What it meant to lose you, Art,
No one will ever know.

When I'm sad and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
I seem to hear you whisper,
Cheer up, and carry on.
Each time I see your picture,
You seem to smile and say
Don't cry, I'm only sleeping.
Till we meet again some day.

—Ever remembered and sadly missed by Nancy, George, Ruth and Meighen, Virginia and Bob. 45-1p

WOODBEEK — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Franklin Woodbeck, who passed away January 27th, 1960.

Your loving memory we'll always keep.

CANNED TOMATOES FOR EVERY PURPOSE

Due to a bumper crop of tomatoes last fall, canned tomato products are plentiful right now. This is good news for consumers for canned tomatoes are a relatively inexpensive way to get colour, flavour and Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) into our meals. Most of the canned tomatoes in the stores are Canada Choice Grade. They are also packed in two other grades — a higher grade, Canada Fancy and a lower grade, Canada Standard. In order to more clearly understand the difference in these grades, we asked the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture to enlighten us. They gave us the following information:

Canada Fancy — The top grade for canned tomatoes are whole or almost whole with a very good tomato flavour and good red colour typical of well-ripened tomatoes. They are good for serving where appearance is important.

Canada Choice — The grade most readily available on the retail market, may not be as uniform in appearance as the top grade. They may contain whole tomatoes along with large and small pieces. They have a good tomato flavour and a fairly good red colour. They can be served hot or cold as a vegetable side dish.

Canada Standard — Have no uniformity of size or shape and may contain whole as well as large or small pieces of tomato. They have a fairly good flavour and colour and are satisfactory for use in cooked dishes where appearance is not so important.

So next time you are shopping for canned tomatoes, take time to read the label and choose the grade most suited to your purpose. Check the prices too. The lower grades are usually a few cents less.

Cooking Comments

Macdonald Institute, Guelph, tells us that 1½ cups bread crumbs can substitute for 1 cup of flour in a muffin recipe. Also, use bread crumbs for thickening gravy or soup.

Do you ever have trouble slicing a very fresh loaf of bread? Try dipping the knife into boiling water and dry before each slice is cut.

Why not try rolling scoops of ice cream in cookie crumbs or crushed cornflakes, and then adding a dash of maple syrup. This is a real party treat.

When a large lamb roast is an economical buy, a small family may have the butcher cut some chops from it for another meal. Or cut the whole roast into steaks for broiling or pan frying.

St. Mark's W.A. Bonarlaw

The annual meeting of St. Mark's W.A., Bonarlaw, was held at the rectory in Marmora on Thursday, January 17th.

The President, Mrs. W. J. Barlow, opened the meeting at 2 p.m. and all joined in singing the hymn "O Master Let Me Walk with Thee." Mr. Stewart led in prayer. The Bible reading from 8th Luke 4-16 was read by Mrs. Eggett. The President welcomed all members and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Stewart for their kind invitation to have the meeting.

Roll call showed 16 members paying their fee for 1963. The Treasurer gave the report on the bowling banquet catered to, also her report for the year which showed a very successful year. The officers all gave their reports for the past year which were very well given.

Mrs. Barlow expressed her thanks to all the members for their co-operation and fellowship throughout the past year and then asked Mr. Stewart to conduct the election of officers. Mr. Stewart thanked the W.A. for all the work they had accomplished in the past year and hoped for a successful year to come. The officers elected are as follows:

President — Mrs. W. J. Barlow
Vice-President — Mrs. S. Matthews
Secretary — Mrs. B. Woodbeck
Treasurer — Mrs. W. Neal
Dorcas Secretary — Mrs. E. Heath
Living Message Secretary — Mrs. R. Brown

Thankoffering and Cards — Mrs. J. Wellman

Extra Cent-A-Day — Mrs. J. Eggett

Little Helpers Secretary — Mrs. J. Prest

Social Service Secretary — Mrs. H. Jones

Press Secretary — Mrs. A. Burditt

Educational Secretary — Mrs. J. Wellman

The Oyster Supper was discussed and it was decided to hold it in February.

Mr. Stewart closed the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Stewart served a delicious lunch.

"THE HEART STORY"

Probe Diet For Health Disease Cure

This is the second of a series of articles by David Spurgeon, published for the Heart Foundation of Canada.

Dr. Louis Horlick is a 37-year-old associate professor of medicine with an intriguing idea. He believes that it may one day be possible to reduce hardening of the arteries by changing the diet of the animals we eat.

Ever since it was first observed by researchers that man's arteries become narrowed and roughened by a build-up of a fatty substance called cholesterol, they have suspected that diets rich in certain kinds of fat may be involved.

If this were so, they reasoned, a reduction of this type of fat in human diets should reduce cholesterol build-up and consequently retard hardening of the arteries.

Dr. Horlick, who teaches and carries out his experiments at the University of Saskatchewan, took a different tack. Rather than trying to change the diet of people, why not change the diet of the animals they eat? This he believed, would be an easier way to reduce human intake of the fats, for people do not take kindly to changing their dietary habits.

He therefore set about feeding patients eggs laid by hens fed special diets, then measuring the amount of cholesterol in the patients' blood.

And while his investigations have not yet brought forth definitive results, his data and that of others in the same field fortifies his belief that diet plays a definite role in the onset of degenerative heart disease.

The reason behind the artery-clogging build-up of cholesterol is one of the greatest enigmas in medical science. But it has been observed by many investigators that the amount of cholesterol in the blood rises with increased intake of animal fats like lard and chicken fat, and dairy products like butter, milk and cream. Vegetable fats, on the other hand, have been shown to reduce blood cholesterol levels (Animal fats are known chemically as saturated fats, vegetable oils as unsaturated fats).

Now, it has never been proved that the increase in cholesterol in the blood caused by animal fats actually is responsible for the build-up of cholesterol in the artery linings. But studies have shown that people who live on diets rich in these fats have, on the average, greater incidence of atherosclerosis than those whose diets contain little animal fat. And if there were a definite connection, manipulation of diet could presumably retard hardening of the arteries.

These facts and assumptions form the background of Dr. Horlick's work. He and Dr. J. B. O'Neill, of the university's poultry husbandry department, fed hens a diet containing sunflower seed oil. The eggs obtained from these hens were sent to England for examination, using a special method, and it was found that they did indeed show an increase in unsaturated fats like those found in vegetable oils.

Dr. Horlick then fed the eggs to student volunteers to see if they would reduce or hold down blood cholesterol levels. At first they did, but results in following experiments were not so gratifying, and Dr. Horlick could not draw definite conclusions from them.

So his studies continue. Now he is trying a variation of the original experiment: He is feeding nicotinic acid (one of the B vitamins) to the hens, and he will record the cholesterol levels of patients fed with their eggs in a similar fashion.

The experiments may show finally that it is possible to control human blood cholesterol levels by controlling the diets of animals, or perhaps by modifying the processing of foods.

If this could be done, many medical men feel the incidence of hardening of the arteries — and the rapidity of its onset — could be reduced.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Ellis)

POWER OF PERSISTENCE

In her splendid book, Your Prayers and Mine, Elizabeth Yates attributes the following prayer to Sir Francis Drake, the great explorer:

"O Lord God, when Thou givest to Thy servants to endeavor any great matter, grant us also to know that it is not the beginning, but the continuing of the same, until it be thoroughly finished, which yieldeth the true glory."

That collection of prayers has been in print for almost ten years; but Miss Yates says that before it was published it had been rejected by dozens of publishing houses. She persisted in improving it and mailing it out until it was finally accepted, and then succeeded beyond all expectations. A person of lesser faith would have given up on it after a few tries and put it aside. Miss Yates, inspired by the Drake prayer, knew the power and value of persistence.

Many of us will require this kind of persistence if we are to live up to all the good resolutions we made at the start of 1963. They sounded reasonably easy when made; the glory will be in seeing them through and sticking to them until they form part of our lives.

This nation will require a similar kind of persistence if it is to weather the stormy seas of world competition during coming years. In 1962, because it was necessary, our government had the courage to initiate some rigid self-discipline. Spending was cut in many departments. The good results were striking. Let us hope that the will to continue policies of sound economic sense will persist through 1963.

Labour and Management seemed to adopt, together, a new and better spirit of co-operation during the past year. Forced to stand together against competitors from other countries instead of fighting each other, they went at it with a will, determined to make Canadian goods as competitive as possible. Let us hope they persist in this attitude.

Persistence is an undervalued virtue. It has a rather dull ring to it, connotations of drudgery and plodding effort, rather than zest and adventure. Don't be fooled. It is a rugged, powerful virtue that in the end brings rewards of true grandeur. Try it persistently, in 1963.

Eggleton United Church Women

The January meeting of Eggleton U.C.W. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Murney Kirkey with 14 adults and 1 child in attendance.

The President, Mrs. W. Harlow, presided over a programme prepared by Mrs. Bruce Stapley and opened the meeting with the call to worship, singing the hymn, "For the Beauty of the Earth" and prayer by the pastor, Mr. Dyson.

The Scripture reading, selected verses from the first chapter of Genesis was given by Mrs. William McMullen. The Bible study, taken from the second chapter of "The Word and the Way," with the theme "Creation," was conducted by Mrs. Maurice Clancy. During one part there was a question and answer period in which Mrs. Clarence Fitchett assisted. The Bible study closed with a prayer.

The hymn "From All That Dwell Below the Skies" was sung and following this, there was a short business period. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carl Bridges with the programme being prepared by Mrs. Charles Stapley and Mrs. Clayton Prest.

A motion was made that a flower be purchased and sent to the Community Friendship Secretary, who is ill.

Suggested date was the afternoon of January 29th for members to meet and quilt a quilt for Mrs. Gordon Clarke.

Offering of $5.10 was gathered and 6 paid their dues for 1963. The Treasurer, Mrs. McMullen, gave a complete report, showing a successful year. Correspondence was dealt with and a letter from Mrs. Ashley was read.

The new study book "On Asia's Rim" was introduced by Mrs. C. Fitchett.

Mr. Dyson spoke briefly expressing new year's greetings, announcing the Church service on Sunday afternoon and reminding all of the Annual Congregational Meeting to be held at Eggleton Church on Tuesday evening, January 15th.

Two readings were given, "God's Idol," by Mrs. Keith Johnson and "The Way of the Wisemen," by Mrs. W. Harlow. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Carl Bridges. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Kirkey and a social half hour enjoyed.

Rawdon Y.P.U.

Candlelight Installation Service

The Rawdon Young People's Union held their Candlelight Installation Service at Mount Pleasant United Church on Sunday, January 13th at 7.30 p.m.

Miss Carol Beckett presided at the organ and Miss Jean Sharpe at the piano, and played as an opening prelude "The Day is Past and Over." The Young People then took their places on the platform and in the choir during the singing of "Lord of All Being, Throned Afar." Miss Carol Sharpe gave the call to worship, followed by the invocation by Kenneth McConnell.

The responsive reading, selection 764, was led by Miss Diane McAdam. Miss Lois Morton read the Scripture lesson taken from John 8: 12-29 and 31-32. Miss Barbara Williams led in prayer and the Young People's Choir sang "Light of the World, Eternal and Divine." Rev. W. G. Fletcher gave the announcements and the offering was taken up by Allan Fletcher and Jim Johnson, after which all joined in singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Miss Donald Heath rendered a solo "Did You Stop to Pray This Morning?" and the hymn "Thou, Whose Almighty Word" was sung.

Rev. Fletcher introduced the guest speaker, Mr. John Beach, who had represented South Hastings Riding at the Older Boys' Parliament held in Belleville during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Beach described a typical day at the Older Boys' Parliament and pointed out its values.

Miss Carol Sharpe thanked the speaker for his address. Rev. Fletcher announced the installation of officers. The lights were then turned off.

As Miss Mary Dracup read the names of the executive for 1963 they took their places at the front, facing the minister. Rev. Fletcher reminded the officers of the purpose of the Young People's Union and from a candle on the Communion Table lighted the candle carried by the President, Miss Carol Sharpe. She replied, accepting the challenge and pledging herself to the task before her. The President then lit the candles of the executive who also accepted the challenge and promised to do their best.

The Secretary, Miss Mary Dracup, called on the other members of the Y.P.U. to dedicate themselves for the New Year. As they came down from the choir they received a light from the person at the end of the line. The members replied, pledging their faith and loyalty to the Young People's Union. The recessional hymn, "Lead On O King Eternal," was sung while the Young People marched down the aisle, carrying their candles. The lights were turned on and the congregation joined in the hymn.

After the benediction a social time was enjoyed at the Mount Pleasant Hall. This opened with a brief sing-song. Miss Diane McAdam, the retiring President, thanked all who had helped make her year as President a success. The ladies of Mount Pleasant U.C.W. served a delicious lunch which was enjoyed by all. At the close Miss Carol Sharpe thanked Mrs. Knight and the other members of the U.C.W. for the lunch. Mrs. Knight replied expressing the pleasure of the ladies at having the opportunity to entertain the Young People's Union and their parents and friends.

Carmel U.C.W.

The January meeting of Carmel U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Johnston on Thursday afternoon.

The President, Mrs. Johnston, opened with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer. The devotional was based on New Year's. The Scripture lesson was read responsively and Mrs. Clayton Stapley gave the comments and prayer. Roll call was answered by paying dues. A number of calls were reported. Several thank you notes were read from recipients of gifts at Christmas from sick and shut-ins.

Events in the following month are a quilting, pot luck supper for the Congregational meeting and catering at the Livestock Sales Barna at Hoard's.

Rev. P. J. Hommersen introduced the study book, "The Word and the Way" and dealt with the first chapter. Two contests were conducted.

The hostess served lunch and a vote of appreciation was expressed by Mrs. Stapley.

Men's Bowling

Despite a rather poor attendance last Monday evening some very fine scores were rolled by the old re-lables. Tom Kovack again earned the high single and the high triple by scoring three good games of 252, 217 and 295, totalling 764. He beat his own high single and high triple of last week. Nice work, Tom.

Other high scores were achieved by Ray Poste with 214 and 225; A. MacConnell 204 and 220, Ray Rose 271 and 213, Bruce Hemmarick 227, Ken Cooke 230, Clive White 216, Jack Doran 213, Bill Blakeley 208, Vic Vaselevich 204, Doug Harris 203, Keith Johnson 212, Doug Scea 228, Ralph Scea 217, 210 and 243, Ralph Park 216 and 211, George Noble 220 and 263, J. Edgar 215, Cliff Short 266, and 268.

It looks as though the Elaine team will have to drop out due to lack of support. Also the Rockets and Six-Rs does have had to merge to carry on. If you know of any men who would be interested in taking a crack at bowling, please bring them out with you next Monday, as we could sure use them. See you then.

JUST QUOTING

The army recruit was of more than average literary education. On his first day at camp he was utterly exhausted after several hours of drilling.

"At ease," finally ordered the officer.

"How wonderful is death," muttered the recruit.

The officer turned instantly. "Who said that?" he demanded.

The culprit smiled weakly and replied: "Shelley, I believe, sir."

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Furrow and Fallow By Fairbairn

Dairy Farmers of Canada held their annual meeting in London last week and in many respects it was the one of the three most significant conventions in the organization's 21-year history. Their first significant gathering was the one which decided to break away from the producer-processor national body and form the purely producer group. The second came less than ten years later when dairy farmers decided to embark on a national advertising and promotional programme with funds provided by producers themselves. However, since the first June Set-Aside in 1950 to gather these funds, progress toward achieving collection of 100% of the potential has been lacking. In fact, the percentage of the potential has been shrinking rather than growing — from 59% in 1950 to just over 50% last year. In other words, only half the milk producers in Canada are contributing to this national campaign and the other half ride on their coattails.

So the third most significant meeting was this year's which decided to increase the funds available. There was fairly general approval of the proposal to change the make-up of the promotional organization and its administration and to ask dairy farmers across the country to contribute 1/2 of one percent of their gross to support it. This percentage of income would increase 1/2 of one percent annually until it reaches one percent which is considered the amount required to do an effective public relations, advertising, publicity and promotion programme. If the new deal increases the percentage of the potential collected it could mean the Dairy Foods Service Bureau would have nearly five million dollars a year rather than less than $400,000 on which it has been operating. Even if only half is collected, as at present, it still means an annual budget of 2 1/2 million dollars. And finally, to bring it down to the proposed 1/2 of one percent for the next year starting in June, 1963, the potential would be about 1 1/2 million dollars.

As the Dairy Farmers of Canada says in its final policy statement — which incidentally was adopted unanimously — the organization accepts the responsibility for an immediate step-up in producer-sponsored advertising and plans for further expansion in this field. This all sounds bright and lovely but it is one thing for the national organization to accept this responsibility and another thing to achieve the objective through the co-operation of its members bodies and most particularly, the milk producers themselves.

While wishing them every success, we cannot help pointing out to certain other statements in the policy statement which also sound lovely but scarcely stand scrutiny. For example, "Dairy Farmers of Canada supports measures designed to deal with other current problems but recognizes the need for a comprehensive and authoritative plan for the future." Anybody could vote for such urbane banalities — which is the reason for them and the reason for the unanimity. Or take this one: "A growing awareness that solutions must be found on a national rather than a regional basis and on a dairy industry rather than a commodity basis is apparent in the response of delegates from across the country." If a growing awareness means that half a dozen instead of three delegates a year ago recognize this and act accordingly, the statement is correct.

However, we saw and heard little to indicate that the majority at this meeting were willing to forego any of their own interests for the good of the whole industry. The resolution calling for a gradual lowering of the support price on butterfat did not pass and in the dying moments of this national meeting a resolution from the floor from members of the Ontario Whole Milk League asking for support for its contention that concentrated products similar to Multimilk be classified as fluid products was approved. This happened despite stubborn opposition from Ontario concentrate producers which could scarcely be taken as indicating an awareness of the need to find solutions to problems on an industry basis.

In regard to this latter resolution, there was considerable feeling that it should not have been introduced at a national convention since it is purely a provincial concern at the moment. A similar issue is also before the courts at present.

River Valley U.C.W.

The January meeting of River Valley United Church Women was held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Carr with a good attendance.

The leader, Mrs. Jack Bush, opened the meeting with a poem "Thoughts for the New Year." All joined in singing the theme hymn, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Reports for the past year were given which showed a good year spiritually, socially and financially.

It should be noted by all members that the meeting day has been changed to the third Wednesday of each month.

Mrs. Jack Bush had charge of the programme which opened with hymn 571, followed by prayer by Mrs. Glenn Bush. The offering was received and dedicated. Roll call was answered by each member reading two verses from the first chapter of Genesis. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Ernest Carr.

Mrs. Roy Bush introduced the Bible study by explaining that we would be studying "The Word and the Way" and giving some information on the author and the book. The meeting was closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

A lovely lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

HYDRO IN THE SKY

Ontario Hydro's fleet of nine helicopters puts in about 4,000 hours of flying time a year. The mileage involved equals a trip seven times around the world. Use of helicopters on Commission operations saves more than $1,000,000 each year.

Contributions from general tax revenues to the unemployment insurance fund are estimated at $67.5 million in the current year.

LEGION NOTES

Stirling Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion is proud to support Minor Hockey Week in Canada. Over the past few years, the citizens of this district have enjoyed some of the finest minor hockey to be found in Ontario. During this special Minor Hockey Week, the Legion adds its voice to the slogan, "Take . . . Don't Send Your Boy to the Arena."

For the past number of years, this area has been blessed with a great number of good sportsmen who have devoted much effort, time and money to promote minor hockey in our community. These men have coached, managed, refereed, driven their cars, financed and in many other ways supported the youngsters of Stirling and district. They have asked nothing in return other than the best efforts of their players. In this they have been rewarded. This is the opportunity for everyone in our community to say a special thanks to these people for the tireless efforts on behalf of our young hockey players.

For the past number of years, the local branch of the Legion has operated the arena. During that time, the Legion have spent upwards of $8,000 in renovating the arena. They are a long, long way from getting their money back out of it. The biggest dividend that has been reaped is the knowledge that all district youngsters have had a safe, warm place in which to enjoy skating and ice hockey. With the increased interest of many local adults in the sport of curling, it may be possible to eventually expand the arena facilities and include this growing sport on the arena programme.

All told, our local arena has been an invaluable asset to our community. For many years, the hockey teams representing this area have done themselves proud in provincial competition. More important, hundreds of boys have had the opportunity to learn the basic fundamentals of good sportsmanship and fair play. During the coming week, it is the hope of the Legion that many otherwise busy citizens will take the time off to attend a minor hockey game in the arena. Your interest and support will be more than appreciated. Please note the arena calendar on page one of this issue for dates and times of games.

It would not be fair to leave the subject of minor hockey without paying a special tribute to the many rural residents who are perhaps the most faithful supporters at the arena. Week after week, night after night these good sports bring their youngsters into their games and they stay to cheer the kids on. There is a fine example and one which local residents will follow (we hope).

Earl Wallace Re-elected President Stirling Agricultural Society

Reports Presented Showed Society Had Good Year
— Fair Dates Set Later

The annual meeting of the Stirling Agricultural Society was held in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday night with President Earl Wallace in the chair. The attendance of Directors was not as large as usual due to other meetings.

Secretary Ray Shortt tabled correspondence from the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies announcing the annual convention at the King Edward Hotel, February 20th and 21st; from the office of the Department of Agriculture enclosing a list of the 4-H Clubs, having Achievement Days at Stirling Fair, and a list of the members in order of their standing, and from the Canadian Trotting Association.

The financial statement was presented by Maurice Clancy, showing almost two thousand dollars paid out in prize money and a balance of $243.55. The report was adopted on motion of M. Clancy and F. McDonnell.

Sid MacDonald, Agricultural Representative, gave a brief address expressing the appreciation of the members of the various 4-H clubs for the co-operation and assistance given them by the Agricultural Society of officials. "The Juniors are deriving much benefit from their various club activities and they, along with their parents, and the Department of Agriculture wish to thank the Society for its interest and support," stated Mr. MacDonald.

Fred McDonnell and Clarence Fitchett also spoke briefly on the excellence of the 1962 Fair. The midway was given praise and an effort will be made to have it return for the 1963 Fair.

The matter of possible Fair dates was discussed at length. It was pointed out that last year's Fair was on the same date as several others in the central part of the province which seriously affected the horse exhibits at the local show. Delegates to the Central Fairs meeting today (Thursday) were authorized to arrange for non-conflicting dates if at all possible.

Ben Blecker took the chair for the election of officers which resulted as follows:

High School Sr. Basketball

(by John Svoboda)

At the Stirling High School on January 23rd, the Stirling and Campbellford seniors met in one of the season's most exciting games.

Allen Fletcher, Stirling's centre and top scorer, netted a total of 22 points; the Stirling score was further boosted by the 15 points scored by left forward Andy Faulkner. Jeffs, Steacy and Heath, who worked especially hard for this victory, scored a total of seven points among themselves.

In spite of these commendable efforts on Stirling's behalf, the score, with 15 seconds left in the game, was 42-41 with the narrow one-point lead for Stirling. However, Howard Jeffs shot two successful foul shots and the tension was broken, for, when the final whistle blew, Stirling had widened the margin to 44-41, and had captured the game.

The Juniors, although they played a good game, were not so successful as the Seniors and Campbellford took the game. The high scorers were Edgar Hay-Ellis with 8 points and Bob Bell with 6 points.

The next Junior home game will be with the Norwood team and will take place on February 22nd in the local gym, followed by a dance.

Insurance On Local Public School Increased To $125,000 By Board

Survey Shows Increased
Attendance In Future Years
— Inspector In Attendance

Stirling Public School Board met in regular session last night with Mrs. Robert Luery presiding and Messrs. R. Jeffs, D. R. Williams, R. D. Cooke, A. Munro and J. Svoboda in attendance. Mr. Svoboda, a new member, was welcomed to the Board by the chairman.

Allan Munro, chairman of Property Committee, reported that the heating unit had failed on Tuesday, necessitating giving some of the pupils a half day holiday. A new pump had to be installed to overcome the trouble. He also reported the vandalism perpetrated at the school when outside water taps were broken and a screen slashed. Appropriate steps are being taken to safeguard the school property in future.

Doug Robson interviewed the Board regarding a Bicycle Safety Campaign to be held in conjunction with local safety authorities at a later date. The co-operation of the Board was promised.

Insurance Increased

The insurance on the school was also reviewed with Mr. Robson and it was decided to increase the insurance from $90,000 to $125,000, with $110,000 on the building and $15,000 on the contents.

Stirling Juveniles Tie Marmora; Win Over Warkworth 11 to 3

Norwood and Stirling Play
Here Friday Night To Decide First Place In League

In one of the best games of the season Stirling Juveniles and Marmora played to a 4-4 tie at the Henry St. Arena on Friday night last. Both teams stuck strictly to hockey and a good crowd of fans witnessed a thrilling game. Only one penalty, a minor to Boslak, was called by referees Borland and Bird.

The first period ended in a 1-1 draw with Wright counting for Stirling on a pass from Bird and Shannon scoring for Marmora.

Marmora took a 2-1 lead late in the second period when McInroy beat Rowe in the local nets on a pass from Mantle. They increased their lead to 3 to 1 early in the final stanza on a goal by Shannon. D. Bird put Stirling back into the game at 7:41 when he scored with J. Wright getting an assist, only to have Casselman widen the visitors' margin to 4-2 at the 14:20 mark. However, the locals fought back and Donohoe scored unassisted to make it 4 to 3. Play continued at a fast pace with both goalies pulling off some fine saves, but Andy Faulkner finally came through and beat Howden for the tying counter. Grant Hagerman drew an assist on the play.

World Day of Prayer At St. John's Church

March 1st, 1963, will see the participation of our community in a global observance, namely, the World Day of Prayer. Ours will be one of 3,500 Canadian centres which share in it with the women of 145 other countries. The joint meeting of all congregations will be held in St. John's Anglican Church on Friday, March 1st at 3 p.m.

In rural areas, villages, towns and cities across the Dominion, women of different denominations will gather together to take part in a service which has been prepared this year in Korea. The woman who had major responsibility for it was Mrs. David Chung, a Korean who is not unfamiliar with Canada and Canadian churches. She spent a year here, (1956-57) with a special scholarship for the observance and study of Church women's work in Canada. She is now giving leadership in this same field of effort in the Korean Church.

The theme of the service, as chosen by a Korean women's committee, is "More than Conquerors." It is a programme written in a day of turmoil and uncertainty by women whose country has, more than once, suffered under conquerors. Yet its message affirms the triumph of righteousness.

Through the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada this service will be available in English, French, Chinese and Japanese, and for our sightless friends in Braille. In the local areas this service is also available in Indian, Eskimo and many of the European languages.

This annual round-the-world Day of Prayer begins in the Pacific Islands and ends in Canada's northland. It sees women gathering in familiar Canadian and American churches, in great European cathedrals, in Asiatic places of worship, in the welcoming shade of great tropical trees. Some African women, at least, will trek for more than a day to their meetings.

Nearly every year has seen an increase in Canadian World Day of Prayer offerings, and 1962 had the largest gifts to date. Part of the funds used in this country assist with the financing of Christian (non-English) magazines, with projects of the Canadian Council of Churches, the Canadian Bible Society, and several other co-operative Church agencies. Help with literature in Braille is provided through the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the John Milton Society. In at least 15 other countries, the funds aid Christian literature production and distribution, at levels from that required by newly-literate adults to university graduates. Through the World Council of Churches assistance is given to refugee work.

In many parts of the world's hard-pressed areas, Canadian women thus take a larger share in work for peace through their participation in this world-wide observance on the first Friday in Lent.

Funeral of Robert Scarlett

The funeral of the late Robert Scarlett was conducted on Wednesday afternoon, January 23rd, 1963, at the Duffin Funeral Home, Stirling, by Mr. Wm. Belch. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broadworth rendered an old favourite hymn, "I Know He's Mine." The deceased was in his 87th year and was born in Seymour Township, the son of the late Edward Scarlett and his wife Frances Batstone. He was married to the late Addie Morton who predeceased him 15 years ago.

He had resided at Spring Brook for over fifty years and was associated with the Christians who meet at Gospel Hall, west of Spring Brook, at which place he was a faithful attendant as long as health permitted.

Most of his life was spent in farming, except for a few years he operated a garage at Spring Brook. For a number of years he was Assessor for Rawdon Township and rural mail carrier.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Chris (Rena) Bateman, at whose home he passed away; one granddaughter, Mrs. Thos. (Ada) Turner, of Burlington, and two great grandchildren; also a half brother, Ross, of Manitoba.

Interment was in Mt. Nebo Cemetery, Spring Brook.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Reginald McKeown, Hiram Mumby, Earl Finch, Thos. McKeown, Fred Bateman and Ed Bateman.

Frankford Arena To Cost $50,000

The Village of Frankford has set $50,000 as its objective in a drive to collect funds to build a new arena. The former community building was destroyed by fire last December.

Meantime Frankford Lions have used insurance from the old building to complete the new addition, which escaped damage in the blaze. An upper storey has been added to the stone block structure which houses dressing rooms for hockey players and skaters, and this new room will be used as an auditorium.

Once the new arena has been built behind the existing dressing room area, the entire building will be turned over to the village as a recreation centre, and will be administered by a recreation committee.

THE BIBLE TODAY

"If you can't find the answer in your law books, you will find it in that pocket edition of the Bible that is in your saddle bag," Mayor Gordon Stronach, of London, Ontario, stated recently referring to the early days of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The Mayor stated that his "alma mater" was the R.C.M.P. Looking for the reason for the high regard held by people with respect to this force, with special reference to Canada's early history, Mayor Stronach indicated that justice was administered faithfully from the precepts of the Bible carried by the pioneers, then called, the Royal Canadian North West Mounted Police.

Speaking at the Mayor's Breakfast on the morning following the inauguration of the London City Council, His Worship Mayor Stronach stressed the need for Christian principles to be applied at every level of living, making special reference to those in public office.

The Mayor's Breakfast was sponsored by the London Group of International Christian Leadership. In Washington, D.C., the annual President's Prayer Breakfast is a project of I.C.L. This year, the event is to be held on Thursday, February 7th. A group of Senators and members of Parliament in Ottawa meet when the House is in session under the auspices of I.C.L.

Could Save Your Life

One of the chief causes of death and injury on our streets and highways is that in a collision drivers and passengers are thrown forward with crushing force against the steering wheel, dashboard, or windshield — or are hurled from the car.

A seat belt restrains you. It lessens the impact of the blow, it keeps you in the car, where you are safer. A separate seat belt should be provided for each passenger — in the back seat as well as the front. It takes only an instant to fasten and release the belt buckle — a habit that can become as automatic as closing the doors of your car. Seat belts are especially important for youngsters who can be thrown forward so easily in sudden stops or swerves.

Ralph Scea had the high single of 157, followed closely by a tie with 155 for brother Doug Scea and Bill Reid. Other good triples were Ralph Scea 413, Doug Scea 410, Don McCrory 378 and Ray Poste 365.

Ralph Scea's team took two games for 4 points, but Don McCrory's team got 3 points for 1 game and total pinfall.

Team standings — Ralph Scea's team, 14 points, and Don McCrory's, 7.

FOOD FOR '63

It should be no problem to eat well in Canada in 1963 for we are fortunate in having an abundant supply of all the foods necessary for good nutrition and good health produced right here in our own country. So says the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture. Let us look briefly at the food picture.

Milk

Milk production in Canada has continued to increase over the last ten years but per capita consumption seems to be decreasing. Milk is considered to be an important food nutritionally for it supplies calcium, vitamins T and B, minerals and protein. According to Canada's Food Guide, the yard stick for good nutrition in Canada, adolescents and expectant and nursing mothers should get as much as 4 cups of milk each day for good health. Children up to 11 years should get 2½ cups and adults 1½ cups. If we all drank the amount of milk suggested, there would be no surplus of milk in Canada.

Butter

Butter stocks continue to grow although the per capita consumption has increased during the last few months. During the winter, butter is particularly valuable for the fat soluble vitamins it contains and for its energy value.

Cheese

Canadian cheddar cheese reached a record per capita consumption this year. More Canadian-made specialty cheeses are also being consumed. Main course dishes made with cheese may be often used as an alternate to meat for it supplies valuable protein. It also makes a satisfying dessert.

Fruit

Canada's Food Guide recommends

2 servings of fruit or juice every day. With plentiful supplies of apples, we can have an apple every day. With the abundance of canned and frozen Canadian fruits available this year, we can enjoy the variety they bring to our meals. Canned pears are particularly plentiful. For a satisfactory source of Vitamin C each day, we have our own Canadian vitaminized apple juice, tomato juice and canned tomatoes.

Vegetables

One serving of potatoes is especially recommended. Potatoes can be eaten every day and are not fattening when eaten in moderate amounts without rich gravies or sauces. They supply valuable amounts of Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) as well as minerals, particularly iron and have energy value.

Two servings of other vegetables, preferably yellow or green and often raw are recommended. This should be no problem with the large stocks of Canadian grown vegetables on hand. Of the frozen and canned vegetables, peas, beans and corn are most abundant. To get the most nutritive value from frozen vegetables, remember to cook them in a very little water and use the liquid from canned vegetables, in gravies and soups. Yellow vegetables could include turnips and carrots both of which are plentiful.

Bread and Cereals

Bread and whole grain cereals are recommended in the daily diet. For greatest enjoyment of bread serve it with butter. Cooked whole grain cereals are delicious for breakfast with milk or cream and are good nutritionally too.

Meat, Fish and Poultry

A serving of meat, fish or poultry is recommended in the day's meals. These are the good protein foods which are so necessary for good health and body building.

Young athletes particularly need lots of protein in their diet. There are many economical cuts of meat which take longer cooking but are just as nutritious as the more expensive ones. Chicken broilers and turkeys will be in good supply early in the new year. Since the price of red meats will continue fairly high for some months, poultry meat will be an attractive buy for the consumer.

Eggs

As well as supplying protein, eggs are important sources of vitamins and minerals. They may be served as meat alternates several times a week. Three eggs are needed to replace one serving of meat. During February, eggs will be in plentiful supply.

The Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture urges each and every shopper to make a New Year's resolution to find out more about the Canadian foods now available on our markets. To get the most out of the food dollar, one should study the grade names. Government grading and inspection of many of Canada's foods is carried out to help the consumer to get the most value for her food dollar. A wealth of information on food grading is contained in the handy, purse-size booklet "Buy by Grade." A copy may be obtained free of charge by writing to: Information Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

NEVER ANOTHER PEARL HARBOUR

"I can assure you of one thing — the United States is determined never to have another Pearl Harbour — atomic style, that is."

That's a quote from W. E. Williams' recent speech to the Canadian Club. He had visited, with some fifty other business and professional men, the Strategic Air Command at Colorado Springs, and was mightily impressed with their readiness and ability to defend this continent.

He had something else to say — something much less comforting. He said, "Canada herself, though busy in the affairs of Norad, is actually spending millions of dollars which weaken the defense of North America." A pretty shocking statement. What did he mean?

Suppose a Russian bomber, complete with bomb, did penetrate Canadian defences and got as far as, say, Camp Borden. We have interceptor planes fast enough to locate it and knock it out of the air with an air-to-air missile. We've spent and are spending millions to be able to do this. But — and here's the tragedy — the bomb would still go off, set to explode at a certain height, and, as Mr. Williams put it, "Thanks to prevailing winds one and a half million people here in Toronto start dying from radiation fall-out within a few hours."

This could be changed. If, instead of using conventional air-to-air missiles, Canada would supply its interceptor planes with small defensive nuclear warheads, the big nuclear bombs on invading aircraft would be "cooked" and rendered completely ineffective and harmless except as debris.

"Why, then, in God's name, don't we use such a weapon since it is only for defense and would never be fired except in case of an attack?" That's

Mr. Williams' question. Others are beginning to ask it, too. If we are to have fast and expensive interceptors, why should we refuse to provide them with the best defensive weapons available? Would we be just as sensible to have no interceptors at all if we aren't going to enable them to render the attacker helpless?

Canadians cannot ignore this question much longer. It must be answered one way or the other soon.

"THE HEART STORY"

Hypertension Studies Show Many Factors Involved

This is the third of a series of articles by David Spurgeon, published by the Heart Foundation of Canada.

At the end of a dim corridor in Montreal's venerable Hotel Dieu Hospital, a cluster of people daily sit waiting for doctors, on straight-backed chairs and old-fashioned white wooden benches.

They are an oddly assorted group — young and old, rich and poor, humble and exalted — yet all have something in common. They suffer from the condition doctors call hypertension, commonly known as high blood pressure.

And despite the austerity of the surroundings, they are lucky to be there. They are patients of the largest and probably the best organized hypertension clinic in the country. Few clinics anywhere else are making such an intensive study of this obscure yet ubiquitous disease.

Some cases of hypertension have specific, known causes. But the causes of most cases are unknown. It is of great importance to find the causes, because sustained high blood pressure places great strain on the heart and may be a serious threat to life and health.

To do so, and to understand the course of the disease and methods of treating it, both clinical and laboratory research are required. Hotel Dieu carries out both kinds of research in its clinical research department, which is under the direction of Dr. Jacques Genest.

Patients referred to the hospital's hypertension clinic are first put into hospital for four or five days. Their medical history is obtained, various tests are administered, and blood pressure readings are taken hourly.

These repeated readings serve a definite purpose: They show how the patient responds to rest. Says Dr. Genest: "A rapid fall in blood pressure after the first few days in the hospital indicates in most cases the relief of an anxiety state and points to the necessity of exploring further the psychosomatic and emotional aspects."

After release from hospital, patients show up weekly at the outpatient clinic. Later, as their condition is controlled, they come only perhaps once a month.

As out-patients, they come by appointment to the room at the end of the tunnel. Four National Research Council physicians, a staff fellow and Dr. Genest himself see 50 to 770 patients each clinic day.

When their names are called, patients enter a clinic room and have their blood pressure taken by a nurse. The nurse, who knows each patient personally as well as the doctor does, chats with them to find out how they've been since their previous visit.

Then the patient is sent to one of the doctors, who again takes blood pressure and notes on the patient's condition. Again the repetition serves a purpose. The blood pressure, says Dr. Genest, is often lower when it is taken by a nurse. And the doctor can determine if the patient hiding details from him by checking with the nurse's account of the patient's condition.

In some cases, new drugs for treatment by hypertension are prescribed. Sometimes a diet is arranged. For, while hypertension cannot be cured, Dr. Genest says it is now possible to control 85 to 90 per cent of cases.

For research purposes, this clinical work is invaluable. Because everything goes into the patient's record, the progress of the disease and the effects of treatment can be closely followed over a period of many years. In the past six years more than 1,800 patients with hypertension have been followed. Little by little, a picture can be drawn of the mechanism and course of the disease and its modification by treatment.

The patient benefits, too, of course. He gains the advantage of the clinic's accumulated knowledge; and he receives individual attention from a well-qualified staff of specialists. Also, a doctor is on call 24 hours a day, and he has only to refer to the records to alter treatment to overcome an emergency. Meanwhile, in the laboratories, other aspects of the disease are investigated in an attempt to get at the basic causes of hypertension.

The emphasis here shifts from one investigation to another. When researchers are satisfied that the factor they are exploring is not the final factor that may lead them to the answer they are searching for, they move on to another, at the same time publishing their findings for the guidance of others.

For some time, for example, it was thought the basic cause of hypertension might be found through adrenal hormones. Now results obtained indicate that this is only one facet and that the problem is a most complex one. Researchers are turning their attention to substances known as protein polypeptides, especially angiotensin, a hypertensive substance found in experimental renal hypertension.

Clinical and laboratory work is inter-related. The course of the disease and results of treatment can be observed from both in different ways.

When patients leave the out-patients' clinic, they place 25 cents in a cardboard box on the secretary's desk to pay for her salary. Although the drugs they are given are expensive, they are not asked to pay for them if they cannot afford to. Drug manufacturers supply them free of charge. Rich and poor alike receive the same treatment regardless of ability to pay. In 1955 alone, drugs worth $20,000 were given to the clinic by pharmaceutical firms.

Campbellford Native Named Judge

Harry Elmore (Bill) Richardson, 46-year-old member of the law firm of Frost, Frost & Richardson, of Lindsay, native son of Campbellford, World War II Flying Officer, distinguished member of the Lindsay Bar Association, was duly installed as Judge of the County Court of Victoria and Haliburton and Judge of the Surrogate Court on Tuesday, January 15th.

The impressive Victoria County Court House ceremonies were presided over by Judge A. R. Willmot, Chief County Court Judge of the Province of Ontario. He was assisted by Judge W. Lane, Senior District Judge. Judge Richardson is a son of Dr. H. O. Richardson, of Campbellford. — Campbellford Herald.

Cooking Comments

Food experts at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, suggest that you cook enough potatoes today for that meal in a hurry tomorrow. Cold boiled potatoes can always be creamed, fried, hashed-browned, or will make a tempting hot potato salad.

If there is no time to prepare greens for a tossed salad, arrange slices of Ontario hothouse cucumbers and tomatoes on a plate centered with a small bowl of Russian dressing made with equal part of mayonnaise and chili sauce.

If you would like to keep a late-comer's dinner hot, dish up his plate, cover with an inverted pie plate or aluminum foil and set over a pot of simmering water. However, many vegetables do not hold longer than 15 minutes in this manner.

For an attractive looking party snack colour cream cheese pink or green with food colouring, flavour with a dash of garlic powder, and fill a decorating tube with this mixture. Then swirl the cheese onto crisp cracker rounds and top with a few parsley leaves.

JUST TOO CHANGEABLE

"What's the matter with you?" the wife demanded. "Monday you liked beans. Tuesday you liked beans. Wednesday you liked beans; now Thursday, all of a sudden, you don't like beans."

If you act up with a loaded gun, it may be your last performance.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

AVOID DANGER AND LOSSES; KEEP TREATED
SEED AWAY FROM ALL EDIBLE GRAINS

Farmers should use extreme caution to prevent treated seed from becoming mixed with grain intended for human or livestock consumption.

The organic mercury fungicides and insecticides usually used to treat seed are very poisonous even in small amounts and accumulate in the body, warns W. P. Campbell, fungicide officer with the Canada Department of Agriculture.

Main source of possible contamination is from mixing unused treated seed with grain that is to be marketed. It is unlawful to offer this poisonous grain for sale except for seed, and any person who does so may be heavily fined. The Board of Grain Commissioners is intent on prosecuting offenders and dealing severely with them.

Grain contaminated with seed treated with mercurials can be detected by the Board's grain inspectors, but there is a risk that small pockets of contaminated grain in a load might be missed in sampling. Substantial losses have been incurred by grain companies and farmers through grain shipped from country elevators having been condemned on account of mercurial-treated kernels.

It requires the full co-operation of farmers to maintain Canada's grain supplies free from insecticides and fungicides.

Another source of contamination is from the grain auger. When used for handling treated grain, the auger becomes coated on the inside with the chemical used for treatment. Since the chemicals are almost insoluble in water they are difficult to wash off. When the same auger is used for untreated grain, the kernels in the first few bushels rub off the chemical. This gives them a dressing almost the same as a regular treatment.

To avoid the risk of contaminating grain with the auger, it is necessary to have a second one for use with treated grains only. This applies to those who have their seed treated at commercial plants as well as those who have seed-treating equipment. The use of a separate auger for this purpose will avoid the risks to human health and also the possibility of having a load of grain condemned for contamination by this means.

A third source of contamination is from small amounts of treated grain being left on granary floors and in grain boxes. A thorough clean-up job is necessary after seeding time, and unused treated grain must be stored safely for next year.

CONSERVATION NEWS

THE FENCE

The fence is a form of barricade that is used principally by farmers to separate one part of their farm from another in order that they may control the movements of their livestock. There are many different kinds of fences in the Tweed Forest District, some dating back for 100 years or more.

The most common of the older fences in the district is the "stone fence." The building of these fences in the pioneer days served a two-fold purpose; first a place to get rid of the rocks and boulders picked up off the fields that were to undergo cultivation, and secondly to form barriers around areas of land to be planted with farm crops and to keep livestock out. One has only to glance along a mile or so of this fence to realize the vast amount of back-breaking labour that was entailed in stacking many of the huge boulders one upon another. Of course, horses and holst booms were used in this process.

In Prince Edward County and South Frontenac and elsewhere there are some of the old flat limestone slab fences that were built by early settlers, not because they were necessarily looking for a place to put the flat slabs of limestone, but because it was plentiful in the nearby quarries and was inexpensive. Many mined the limestone from quarries on their own land.

Stump fences are less numerous than the stone or limestone slab fences but there are still some to be seen. These were built by simply uprooting large stumps, roots and all, when clearing the land for cultivation, and lining them up one beside the other with the great roots projecting out like fingers creating a barricade that would stump even the most ornery heifer.

were of more recent vintage and in some parts of the country were quite numerous at one time, but now are fast disappearing. Many of the old stump and rail fences have been replaced by steel or cedar posts and modern wire fencing or by the less expensive electric fence consisting of one strand of wire hung on short stakes with insulators and an electric coil and batteries attached.

As pointed out at the beginning fences are built to control the movement of livestock on farms, and farmers rely a great deal upon them for this reason. Secondly, the old rail, stump and stone fences attract a great deal of small game animals and birds, especially where brush grows up along the existing fence.

Last but not least the fence creates a hazard for hunters, a barricade in their path, and if progress is to be made, it must be overcome one way or another. Some hunters climb under, some climb through, while others climb over.

Others climb over. Most nimble footed hunters walk over the old stone fences without unloading their firearms, pick their way through the stump fences in the same fashion, swing a leg over the rail and single strand electric fence, "oops" ("ouch"), didn't quite make it, but the 6 foot post and wire fence is the real stopper. Did you ever watch a hunter climbing a wire fence between the posts with gun in hand. It reminds one of an amateur trapeze artist the first time on the high wire — result — bent and badly sagging wire left behind, as well as an irate farmer, and rightfully so. Hunters, please find a solid post, shake it to make sure — unload your gun — if alone lay it underneath the bottom wire. The next step is taken on the ladder like wire as close as you can get your boot to the post, take another step up then swing the leg over bringing it down on the other side of the fence close to the opposite side of the post. Step down — you made it — result — no sagging or broken wire strands — and if you have permission to hunt from the landowner, no complaints. Try this on your next hunting trip — you will find it will pay in the long run.

Wise Owl Club of Canada

With White Cane Week dedicated to prevention of blindness, Mr. N. M. Sprague, Chairman of the Hastings County Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind saluted the Wise Owl Club of Canada.

"Since CNIB took over the Club 18 months ago, 450 industrial workers have received awards for saving their eyes from injury or blindness by wearing safety glasses when on-the-job accidents occurred."

The Club was begun in a United States city in 1947, when an industrial worker dropped the idea into his company's suggestion 'box'. His suggestion went into effect at once and met with overnight success. Other plants in the same city took up the programme and soon the Wise Owl movement began to spread across America.

When it took on national proportions, industry invited the National Society for Prevention of Blindness, New York, to take over administration of the awards. By the mid 1950's the movement had entered Canada through United States firms with Canadian branches. In 1961 CNIB became responsible for the Canadian Club which became known as the Wise Owl Club of Canada.

"Safety glasses really perform miracles," the CNIB chairman said. "Accidents" happen in a split second. One minute everything is under control and the next, an accident is taking place." He spoke of one man who was digging a manhole on a city street with his head and shoulders above the ground. A stone from a passing car shattered the right lens of his safety glasses. This accident was unexpected and one of those which most people would say "it can't happen to me." Another man, a label machine operator, had a direct hit on the right lens of his safety glasses when a jammed bottle broke. His glasses prevented what would undoubtedly have been a lost eye.

White Cane Week is under way. Do your part to prevent accidents. Save your sight and share it with those who cannot see.

The Books of Remembrance in the Parliament Building's Peace Tower in Ottawa list the names of 66,651 Canadians who died on active service in World War I and 44,891 who died in World War II.

LEGION NOTES

The next regular meeting of Stirling Branch will be held in the Legion Hall on Tuesday, February 5th at 8:15 p.m. All comrades are asked to attend this important meeting. Main items of discussion will be the planning for the annual Legion Skating Carnival for later in February.

All comrades are again advised of the Zone meeting to be held in Belleville next Sunday, February 3rd at 3 p.m. This will be an important and interesting meeting, and the branch is hopeful of sending a strong delegation. Those who wish to attend the meeting should contact President Lawes right away.

Plans were made at a branch executive meeting last week for the regular weekly cleaning of the Legion Hall. The Branch Building and Property Committee were asked to set up a duty list of members who will regularly take their turn in cleaning the Hall. It was felt that in this way the Legion premises which have been greatly improved during the past year can be best preserved. Members will be advised to their place on the duty roster and the duties that will be expected of them.

The Branch Executive was also in receipt of a verbal offer from the Stirling Horticultural Society relative to tree plantings around the Legion premises. This offer was enthusiastically received by the branch. It was felt that such plantings should be tied in with Legion plans for the landscaping of the grounds. As a result, the Executive turned the matter over to the Branch Building and Property Committee with instructions to contact the local Horticultural Society and to work with them on the matter.

The Executive has also started preliminary plans for the May Fireworks Display. It was felt that some effort should be made to include a ground display of fireworks this year. As a result of the discussion, the Branch is trying to arrange a meeting in March with a representative of the T. W. Hand Fireworks Company to discuss this possibility.

The Branch also announced plans for a Skating Party for all Branch members and their families. The date will be Saturday, February 23rd at the local arena. Public skating will be cancelled for this night. It is expected that a branch bulletin will be mailed shortly with all the details about this special social event. Comrades are asked to note the date ... February 23rd.

Secretary Bert Bastedo advises that he has ordered a limited quantity of Legion crests suitable for blazers or jackets. These will be available at the Legion Hall. At present it is not known exactly the price of these crests. Anyone who is interested should make enquiries of Comrade Bert.

All members are again reminded that Legion dues are now payable to Membership Chairman Doug Patterson. Branch No. 228 is again pointing towards a record year, and we urge all past members to renew their dues as soon as possible. In our community there are a number of eligible veterans who have not as yet become members of the Legion. The Branch extends a sincere invitation to all such veterans to drop out to the Legion Hall and become acquainted with the Legion. Any enquiries regarding membership can be directed to Comrade Doug Patterson.

A final reminder about the regular February meeting of the branch to be held next Tuesday, February 2nd at 8:15 p.m. in the Legion Hall. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

Bantams Win Over Brighton

Journeying to Brighton on Tuesday night, the local O.M.H.A. Bantams provided the opposition for the home-sters in a well played game of hockey. They emerged victors by a score of 7 to 4.

In the second stanza Potts gave Stirling a 3-0 lead on a pass from Barry Pyear at 7:30. McDougall got two quick counters for the home-sters with Cooper drawing an assist on the second one, and Barry Pyear, from Cooney, made the score 4-2.

In the final stanza Ray and Potts, from Pyear, increased the winners' margin to 6-2 before Grant beat Wellman in the locals' net. Brian Cooke scored Stirling's final counter at the 19:27 mark and McDougall got the final goal at 19:58 to make the score 7 to 4.

Stirling Public School Bowlers Defeat Deseronto

A team of Stirling Public School bowlers have proved conclusively that they are the better bowlers by again defeating Deseronto this past week-end, and this time, on Deseronto's home alleys.

Stirling's team of Jane West, Chris Whitehead, Robert Cooke, Jimmie Rawlings and Greg Dafee had a total pinfall of 2380 for three games. They had one game of 918 with Jane West bowling a 246, Chris Whitehead a 224 and Robert Cooke a 201, so senior bowlers look out with this kind of competition coming up.

Jane had the high single and triple for the day with 246 and 554, with Chris close behind with 224 and 518.

These boys and girls are not only learning to bowl on Saturday mornings but are learning good sportsmanship and team-work too. Nice going!

The bowlers are grateful to Mr. Harold West for helping Mr. Poste with transportation.

Ont. Heart Foundation To Hold Campaign

Mrs. G. E. Warren is representative of the Heart Foundation in Stirling.

The policy of the Ontario Heart Foundation is to develop a continuing programme of productive medical research within the broad field of cardiovascular disease at university medical centres and their affiliated hospitals throughout the province.

Heart disease is the most serious threat to the health of the Canadian people. Each year it takes the lives of over 67,000 Canadians, more than all other diseases combined. The problem of heart disease grows as people live longer. Because of the added years of life expectancy, heart disease has increased its death toll by half over the past 25 years. Today, 1,250,000 Canadians suffer from some form of heart disease. Although 900,000 of these are able to lead useful lives, the remainder are seriously disabled.

The primary need is for increased research to investigate: The control of coronary heart disease; techniques of cardiac surgeons and the devices by which their surgery is made possible; the flow of blood through the arteries; the malformed heart in babies.

The Ontario Heart Foundation, incorporated in 1952 and federated with the Canadian Heart Foundation, has been helping to supply some of the answers to these problems by establishing heart units in university centres and hospitals in Ontario.

The research programme complements research facilities through the support of research personnel and grants in aid of research, or of whole units in the field of cardiovascular diseases. It also provides a training ground for future heart specialists. The Foundation does not undertake individual patient care or treatment. 51 research projects are currently administered by the Ontario Heart Foundation. Each of these is composed of a team of doctors, nurses and technicians who have had training in the study of heart disease and are especially qualified to carry on research. One centre is making a study of diet and heart disease, another high blood pressure, in a third how to correct heart defects in blue babies, another centre studies surgical procedures. Already, many people have been helped to more healthful life by the results of research development of these units.

The newly formed Trenton Chapter of the Ontario Heart Foundation is represented in Stirling by Mrs. G. E. Warren. The executive of the Chapter is comprised of: President, R. Douglas Rushnell; Vice-President, Rev. R. Raycroft; Honorary Treasurer, D. Adams; Medical Advisors, Dr.

Brock O. Nugent, Dr. J. W. Farley; Public Relations Officer, Lester McKenna.

Speakers are available and interested groups are invited to contact Mrs. G. E. Warren, Stirling, or write to The Ontario Heart Foundation, Trenton Chapter, 60 Division Street, Trenton, phone EX 2-8805.
